Dr. Spera is now on Twitter! @DocSperaMSMHS

After attending a conference hosted by the State Department of Education last week, Dr. Spera learned that some educators are using social media to share school news and happenings with students and parents.

In addition to Fish Tales, Dr. Spera will try to capture a great moment at MSMHS each day. In addition, all school cancelations and delays will be announced first through Twitter before calling the news stations and homes of our MSMHS Family.
