

The Core Values at NWE

1. Everyone is deserving of respect, and therefore should be spoken to with a tone that creates a sense of respect and value.
2. Our students and their families have the right to be spoken of in a positive manner; however, when it is necessary to discuss a student's progress with a colleague, it should be done appropriately, accurately and confidentially.
3. All colleagues are deserving of respect, and should respond accordingly in order to create a professional environment in which we can each grow and flourish.
4. As educators, professional growth and development should be a continual focus as we seek to provide our students with a high level of academic growth.
5. Knowing that personal and professional reflection is an important part to growth, time will be set aside in order to focus on discussing best practices, collaborating with colleagues, and processing information that has been gained.
6. The creation of community within our school is a vital aspect of our school's climate; and therefore, critical to the success of our staff, our students, and their families.
7. In teaching the whole student, the disaggregation of data, integration of curriculum, and differentiation of instruction will serve to meet the individual needs of each student.
