

Monitoring Your Child's Academics : How to Use the DCBOE Parent Portal

DCBOE PARENT INVOLVEMENT

Research shows, there are specific ways parents can be involved with their children to help increase student achievement. The student with a highly involved parent will be more likely have better grades, better standardized test scores, better classroom behavior, better attendance, graduate from high school and go on to enroll in post secondary education.

Increasing student achievement is what the DCBOE Parent Involvement Program is all about. Join us as we focus on one area of parent involvement, “communication”. Parents will learn how to use the new DCBOE Parent Portal to monitor their children’s academic success. Parents no longer have to wait for graded tests and assignments to come home before conferencing with the teacher. At the touch of a finger, parents will learn how to access grades, attendance, missed assignments and more from any computer at anytime.
