Summer
Reading
Opportunities

Prevent the Summer Slide!

Critical Facts About Summer Reading

- Learning or reading skill losses during the summer months are cumulative. By the time a struggling reader reaches middle school, summer reading loss has accumulated to a two-year lag in reading achievement.
- It is estimated that the “Summer Slide” accounts for as much as 85% of the reading achievement gap between lower income students and their middle-and upper-income peers.
- 3rd graders who can’t read on grade level are four times less likely to graduate by age 18 than proficient readers.
- Studies show that making sure there are always interesting books at home can increase the likelihood of a child being a frequent reader.

Students who complete at least 25 literacy activities through the Public Library, or on their own, and bring their reading logs and evidence of the 25 activities to school when we return after summer break, will be recognized after Labor Day for their accomplishments. Please note that the public libraries require 50 activities to receive a certificate.
