"Parent Engagement Third Edition"

January 9, 2018

Let's bring in the 2018 New Year with some fun quotes from Dr. Seuss! Read them aloud with your student, and inspire them and yourself...

- "You have brains in your head. You have feet in your shoes. You can steer yourself, any direction you choose."
- "Today you are you, that is truer than true. There is no one alive who is youer than you."
- "So the writer who breeds more words than he needs, is making a chore for the reader who reads."
- "Sometimes the questions are complicated and the answers are simple."
- "And will you succeed? Yes indeed, yes indeed! Ninety-eight and three-quarters percent guaranteed."

Important Tips for Learning Success

Protect sleep. Pediatricians indicate that children in the middle school age range need nine to nine and a half hours of sleep per night. Try to make sure your child hits this mark most of the time.

Create a quiet zone. Establish a quiet workplace without noise or other distractions so children can complete homework undisturbed.

Safeguard weeknights. Protect evening time during the week so children can be home, completing homework and studying for tests.

Take time for 25. Make sure your child has regular access to books, reading at least 25 per year.

ID intelligence. Identify what your child is good at, and give him many chances to hone skills in this area.
