College Credits while still in High School

Auto Technology

Automotive technology has changed a lot in recent years.

Automotive technicians today need formal training in the latest diagnostic equipment. They must possess good math, reading and communication skills to follow detailed service manuals and work with computer-based software.

This program will give you the chance to work on vehicles. It will give you a basic understanding of the new technologies and principles necessary to perform repairs on your own vehicles or to prepare you for a career in the auto industry.

Skilled automotive technicians are in high demand today, and area businesses are eager to hire bright young people for employment and apprenticeship programs.

This program is ASE/NATEF certified and offers dual credit.

Computer Aided Design & Animation (CAD)

If you're interested in Architecture, Mechanical Design or Animation, then this one- or two-year program will help prepare you for a future career.

Whether your interest is designing a concept car, creating a video game, or constructing a dream home, CAD designers are needed. Students will make detailed drawings, part models and animations to show exact dimensions and specifications of a project. While using state of the art software and even 3-D printers for these designs, students may earn college credit. Whether your desire is to work immediately after high school, or work while you're in college, this program will help you accomplish this goal.

Want to be that go-to person who helps a coworker or client figure out why his or her computer is acting up? As a Computer Tech Support student, you will learn to diagnose and repair computer problems. You will focus on maintenance and security issues. You will install operating systems and software. You will help to restore data.

The field of technology is hot. According to CompTIA, there are almost 1 million open IT positions in the U.S. Despite their differences on the surface, virtually every industry today depends on IT. From small, family-run businesses to big corporations, there are IT careers for students in almost every organization around the globe.

This program is offered in two locations. Chesterton High School has a small program for its own students. Valparaiso High School has morning and afternoon classes for students from all participating high schools in the district.

Health Science Education I with Medical Terminology/Anatomy-Physiology

College dual credit during high school. Hands-on experiences in health care fields.

These are two attributes of this class, which can then lead to Health Science Education II, Fundamentals of Sports Medicine, Emergency Medical Services or Dental Careers.

This class will cover medical terminology while studying the normal structure and function of the human body. Each semester you will earn two elective credits plus one credit in anatomy/physiology—which counts toward any diploma as a science. You will earn up to six dual college credits from Ivy Tech. You will do job shadowing and dissection labs. You will become a member of HOSA and exit the program with a workplace ready digital portfolio.

Industrial Mechanics

Sign up for Industrial Mechanics if you are interested in a welding or manufacturing career.

First-year students will first learn printing reading, turning, milling and grinding. They will then focus on basic welding processes, which include oxyacetylene, stick welding, wire welding and TIG welding, plus operation of plasma arc machines.

The industrial mechanic is the key problem solver in the workplace. Industrial mechanics install machinery, use precision measuring devices and operate complex tools in a variety of manufacturing environments.

Second-year students will cover the basic competencies necessary to become employed in industry. Competencies include hydraulics, pneumatics, burning, print reading, power transmission, lubrication, pumps, piping, rigging, shop equipment and mechanical maintenance. The first semester will consist of classroom and lab instruction at Portage High in the defined competencies. The second year includes an internship (for approved students) in an area manufacturing facility. Sign up for this class because it will give you a "jump start" in your welding or manufacturing career.

Grade 12; Cr.6
Chesterton High School
Grade 12; Cr.8

School TO Work

If you would like to get a paycheck and earn high school credits at the same time, then consider enrolling in one of the classes above. Expect to earn cash and credits throughout the year and get your foot in the door toward building a successful career. Most of the work stations are not typical “youth jobs” with limited skill requirements, and most have opportunity for advancement. As a school-to-work student, you will be attending your home school part of the day and working a minimum of fifteen hours per week.

If you are interested in the marketing field, then sign up for either the Strategic Marketing Internship or Strategic Marketing Field Experience class. You may earn dual college credits. If you don’t have a specific career selection yet, Work Study programs offer you the opportunity to do some career exploration. Sign up for one of these year long school-to-work options and begin your business and industry networking opportunities while still in high school.

Video Production and Media Studies

Do you want to know how to produce a TV show, be a news reporter, or shoot and edit your own films? Would you like to be on the cutting edge in the communications field?

If these career paths appeal to you, consider signing up for Video Production and Media Studies. It will provide instruction in communication, media, production, and technical functions and tasks performed by employees, including management personnel, in broadcasting and communications occupations. Emphasis will be placed on career opportunities, production, programming, announcing, equipment operation, news and sportscasting, broadcasting regulations and laws, oral/written communication, and listening skills.

Video Production and Media Studies students will learn the five components of television: camera operations, audio, lighting, writing, and editing. Students will have the opportunity to learn editing, directing, producing, camera operation, audio, and lighting. You will train on professional equipment, creating a variety of video projects, including music videos, commercials, and short films. Students should have a strong interest in fine arts, speech, production, journalism, and electronics.

Welding Technology

A trained welder has many opportunities in Northwest Indiana for a rewarding career in industry, construction, small job shops, or self-employment.

You'll learn how to join metal parts by using a heating process during the course of this program. The experienced welder makes excellent wages, but must be willing to work under conditions that often require strenuous physical activity. Just remember, at the completion of this program, you'll be ready for employment.

You will also find opportunities to pursue a certificate or degree at Ivy Tech.

Frequently asked questions

Q: How can I earn a Core 40 with Technical Honors Diploma? (47 credits)

A: Complete all requirements for Core 40.

- Earn 6 credits in the college and career preparation courses in a state-approved College & Career Pathway and one of the following:
 1. Pathway designated industry-based certification or credential, or
 2. Pathway dual credits from the lists of priority courses resulting in 6 transcribed college credits
- Earn a grade of “C” or better in courses that will count toward the diploma.
- Have a grade point average of a “B” or better.
- Complete one of the following,
 - A. Any one of the options (A - F) of the Core 40 with Academic Honors.
 - B. Earn the following scores or higher on WorkKeys: Reading for Information – Level 6, Applied Mathematics – Level 6, and Locating Information-Level 5. (Note: test names and levels are being changed).
 - C. Earn the following minimum score(s) on Accuplacer: Writing 80, Reading 90, Math 75.
 - D. Earn the following minimum score(s) on Compass: Algebra 66, Writing 70, Reading 80.

Note: CTE dual credits also help with Academic Honors Diploma. Six dual college credits can qualify for BOTH diplomas.

Q: Can I earn college credit by attending career and technical education programs?

A: Almost all Porter County Career and Technical classes have dual credit opportunities. Many of our students leave high school with transcribed credits from Indiana University Northwest, Ivy Tech Community College and/or Vincennes University. These credits could help a student earn the Indiana Technical Honors and/or Academic Honors Diploma. We also have relationships with numerous proprietary, trade or professional schools.

Q: Can career and technical education courses help prepare me for industry certification examinations?

A: Career and technical education curriculum is developed based upon state, national, and business and industry certification standards. Programs provide students the opportunity to develop the knowledge and skills in preparation for industry certification standards such as: American Society of Welders (AWS), Automotive Service Excellence (ASE), Certified Nursing Assistance (CNA), Student Electronics Technician (SET), Indiana Cosmetology License, Certified Dental Assistant (CDA), Cisco Certified Networking Associate (CCNA) and Child Development Associate credential (CDA).

Q: Is transportation provided to all career and technical programs?

A: Most schools provide school bus transportation to the Porter County Career and Technical Center. However, other programs may require the student to provide personal transportation to and from his/her home school. Students involved in a work study program will be required to provide transportation because of the training station (job) component during or after school hours. The best way to find out if transportation is provided is to ask your guidance counselor.

Q: What costs are involved with taking a CTE class?

A: PCCTE and the public high school you attend (Boone Grove, Chesterton, Hebron, Hobart, Kouts, Morgan, Portage, Valparaiso, Washington or Wheeler) make your class possible. Expect to pay for some book rental, workbooks and possibly some miscellaneous lab fees. Certain fees are waived for those receiving lunch/book assistance. The highest out-of-pocket fees are associated with Cosmetology.
