

US History NTI Day 4

Suppose that you are a colonist living during the Revolutionary period. Your family is back home in England and you have sided with the colonists in the war. Write a 1 page letter back home to your family explaining what has happened. Why have the colonies revolted and what are some events that led up to it? Make this assignment your own and support yourself with evidence from the time period.