GOOD NEWS AT BRYANT ELEMENTARY

November 21-November 22, 2016

We tried flipping a full bottle, a 1/2 filled bottle and a 1/3 filled bottle and hypothesized which one would flip best. Then we watched Channel One News which explained the best one for flipping. (Crego)

We wrapped up our Veterans Day projects for our assemblies on Friday. (Raffaelli)

This week, the students were introduced to a cartoonist/illustrator named Steve Harpster. Different grade levels were challenged to draw their own versions of bunnies, turkeys and SNARTS! I'm so impressed with the artistic talent of our kiddos! Our K-2 students were also introduced to the spanish numbers 1-10. (Raffaelli)

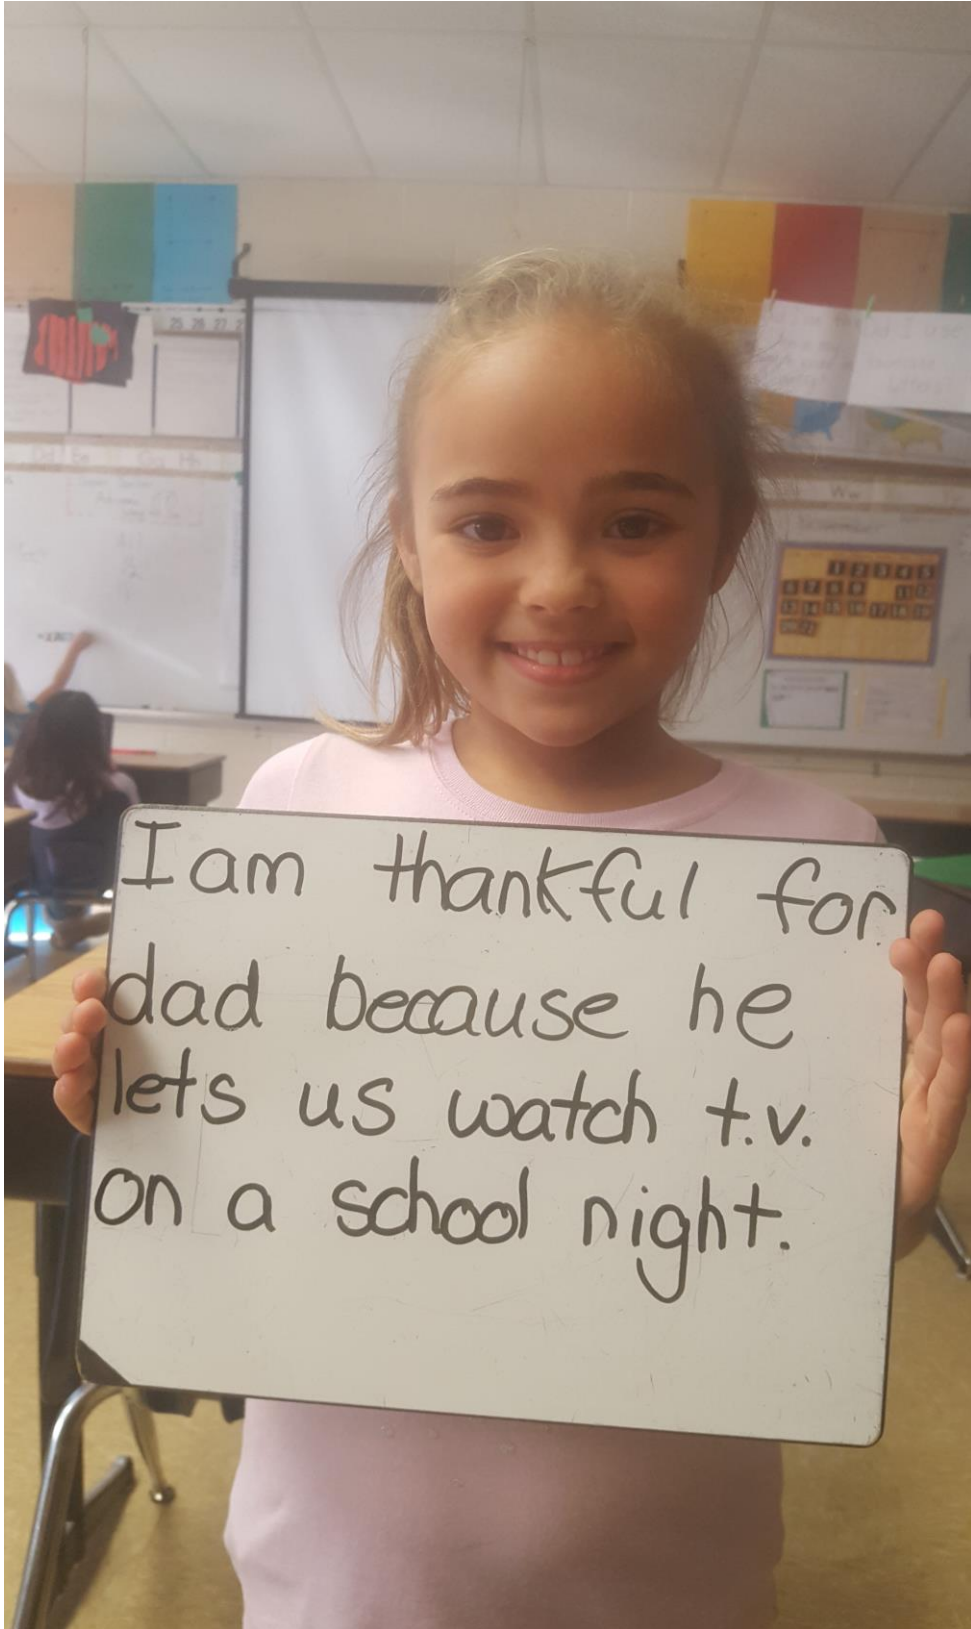

Students shared their personal narratives to receive positive and encouraging feedback. (Powell)

Jessica Thompson got wind of our Adopt a soldier campaign in 5th grade with our two classes and came to do a story yesterday. Just wanted to pass along the info. The kids were super excited to be in the Upcoming Trojan Times. (Tuma)

Third graders are discovering area of different objects using different manipulates. Students love doing explorations in our math series. (Ferguson)

We wrote "thanks yous" to our moms and dads and posted them to our class Facebook page.
