

JAGUAR JOURNAL

November 2, 2017

Dear North Hampton Families,

Welcome to November!

Term One will be over (and the school year 1/3 completed) on Thursday, Nov. 30th. We will hold a Parent Information Night about the Report Card and the Web2School parent portal on Wednesday, November 15th, beginning at 6:30pm in the cafeteria. We'll begin by presenting a "Parent Portal Primer", intended to help parents and guardians understand what information they are seeing on the parent portal and how this may help them monitor their child's progress. We'll also explain the Report Card, which will be open to parents and families via Web2School on Nov. 30th.

We are excited about our Veterans Day assembly coming up next week, on Thursday, Nov. 9th. Our Student Government and their advisors have been working very hard to organize a thoughtful program. In addition to our Vets, we look forward to possibly having a surprise, visiting dignitary.

For our Spotlight on Teaching and Learning this week: I'm sure you'll agree that some pretty amazing teaching and learning goes on at NHS. Even though our Curriculum night was very well received, we want to also be able to share our elementary and middle school curricula with parents and families via the new website (currently under development). Coming up next Monday, 11/06, our K-5 teachers will take time to further develop our curriculum alignment. Our goal is to have a refined articulation for English Language Arts and Math by the end of the year. Teachers will continue their meticulous work on 12/05 and into the New Year. This is very important work for both teachers and our students and will make a great school even better.

Yours for teaching and learning,

Erik Anderson
Principal
