

MAY 24, 2018

Hello North Hampton School parents and families,

We've nearly completed the statewide SAS-AIR assessment. Our 5th graders are finishing up this week, while, last but not least, it'll be the 8th grade's turn next week.

Student Learning Showcase - If they haven't already, teachers will be reaching out to schedule our final conferences for the school year. Several different formats are being used, depending on the grade. I hope that you'll find this time both informative and uplifting as we celebrate the considerable learning and growth of your child(ren) this year.

Report cards - We'll open the Parent Portal for final report cards this year on Friday, June 22nd at 9am. Since we are transitioning to PowerSchool for next year, this will be the final time that we use the Web2School platform. Our teachers have asked to continue assessing their students appropriately as late into the school year as possible; so giving them through the end of the prior week to do so, and then enough time to get grades and Comments into Web2School, makes good sense.

The end of the school year, at any school, is always bustling, but especially so at the North Hampton School. Please visit the school website <http://northhamptonschool.nh.nhs.schoolinsites.com/> and access either the Events Calendar or Blackboard Notices to keep up with NHS happenings.

Currently, our 7th graders are enjoying the Big Apple. Be on the lookout for Tweets and other news from NYC!

Have a great rest of the day and I hope you enjoy the upcoming Memorial Day weekend with you and yours.

Sincerely,

Erik M. Anderson
