- To comply with Policy JF: Student Rights and Responsibilities (the student code of behavior)
- To comply with Policy IJND: Acceptable Use (regarding computers/internet access)
- To assume the responsibility for learning as is appropriate for the student's level
- To respect the rights and property of others
- To apply himself/herself to his/her studies
- To read and abide by the rules in the student handbook

The parent agrees:

- To support the student in the student's school work and activities
- To provide enough time and a place for study
- To be available for conferences with student's teachers
- To participate in student's education process
- To support, encourage, and actively promote the commitments made by the student in the above section

The school agrees:

- To respect the person and property of the student
- To notify parent in a timely fashion of absences, of behavior problems, and/or lack of academic achievement on student's part
- To provide the best education for student's benefit
- To support, encourage, and actively promote the commitments made by students and the parents/guardians in the above section

Failure to return this promise of commitment will not relieve a student or the parent(s) from responsibility be aware of the contents of School Board Policies JF: Student Rights and Responsibilities; JICFAA, JFH, JICFB: Student complaints, harassment, intimidation, bullying and sex/gender discrimination; IJND: Acceptable Use; and instruction policies regarding promotion, retention, grading, and graduation; and will not excuse the student's non-compliance with these policies.
