Reel Art Contest

Pictures by Jordan McNair and Matt Lee

Earlier this year, the South Carolina Department of Natural Resources sponsored an art contest open to all South Carolina students in Kindergarten through 12th grade. Students were asked to create artwork centered around South Carolina fish species and their habitat using any medium of their choice. There were a total of 1,254 entries from all around SC. The entries were divided into three categories: grades K-6, 7-9, and 10-12. Three of Waccamaw's art students, junior Carmen de San Juan, sophomore Jakeem Armstrong, and junior Maddie Frank (students of Mr. Matthews) received awards in the grades 10-12 category.

ATKINS RECEIVES GOOD CITIZEN AWARD

Information and picture provided by Ms. D. Britton

Congratulations to Imani Atkins who was the Waccamaw High recipient of the Good Citizen award given by the National Society of Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR), Winyah Chapter. The award is presented to a senior from each high school in the Georgetown County School District. The annual Student Awards Ceremony was held at Duncan Memorial United Methodist Church in Georgetown Feb. 19th.

Carmen received third place and Jakeem and Maddie received Honorable Mention. Each was awarded with art supplies, a ribbon, and a certificate for their achievement. Their artwork will be displayed at the Palmetto Sportsmen's Classic March 28-30th at the State Fairgrounds in Columbia. Congratulations!

Awesome Performance

Information provided by Mr. Shoemaker

Congratulations to the Waccamaw High Acting Troupe on an outstanding performance this past weekend at the Palmetto Dramatics Association Festival. Their production of "Nine" received the highest possible rating of Superior, and Arianna Senn and Andi Stevenson both received awards of Excellence for their performance in the play. Andi also received the highest rating of Accomplished for her individual event competition in stage management, and everyone competed exceptionally.

Raising The BAR

By Matt Lee

Last Saturday, February 23rd, the WHS Mock Trial team traveled to Conway to participate in the regional Mock Trial Tournament. The team participated in three trials from 8:30am to 5:00pm sponsored by Mr. Vassallo and coached by Attorney Collin Jewell and Holly Foster. Jourdan Valderrama was the official timekeeper for WHS.

The trial that the students took part in was of a student athlete who died from a steroid overdose. The mother of the athlete then sued the coach and school for negligence.

In the first round, Matt Lee, Declyn Drejza, and Randi Johnson played the plaintiff, with Murielle Miller, Brian Barrientos, and Alex Hight as witnesses. Declyn and Alex won Most Effective Attorney and Most Effective Witness from the opposing team, while Matt and Alex won most Efficient Attorney and Most Efficient Witness from the presiding judge.

In the second round, Alex, Brian, and Alexa Bombich played the defense attorneys, with Matt, Declyn, and Kade Ford as witnesses. Alex and Declyn won Most Effective Attorney and Most Effective Witness from the opposing team. Alex also won Most Efficient Attorney from the presiding judge.

In the third and final round, the team played defense again. Alex and Matt won Most Effective Attorney and Most Effective Witness from the opposing team, while Alex and Kade won Most Efficient Attorney and Most Efficient Witness from the presiding judge.

The team did not make it into the state competition, but they left Conway with plenty of awards, including five of the six possible judge awards, and pride, knowing that they did a great job in representing Waccamaw.

Love Is Not Abuse

By Sarah Ball and Emma Karst, Pictures by Matt Lee

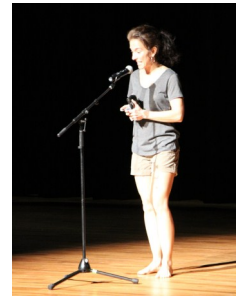

On Wednesday, February 26th, the juniors and seniors attended a viewing of The Yellow Dress, a play produced and directed by Deana's Educational Theater and sponsored by The Family Justice Center located in Georgetown. Ms. Donna Watkins, a licensed counselor of the Family Justice Center, introduced the 'one-woman' play. The production was based off of the true story of Deana Brisbois who was a fatal victim of dating violence. Denise Dean, the play's actress, began the performance by portraying a teen girl, Anna, confiding in the audience about her anxiety towards her upcoming prom. Anna shares that she has two different prom dresses to try on and she wants the audience's opinion on which she should wear. She runs off to change and comes back in a red strapless dress. Anna explains that this would have been the dress she wore had she still been with her ex-boyfriend Ricky. She opened up about how good their relationship was at first, until Ricky began to harm her verbally, and eventually, physically. She leaves him when the abuse becomes unbearable, but then makes the mistake of joining him for a drive, thinking he had changed his ways. At the climax of the story, Anna slips into a blood stained yellow dress that she confesses was the dress she was wearing when she got into Ricky's car. He drives Anna to a secluded area where his rage builds until he becomes violent, yet again, and ends up killing her. She grieves over her death revealing the entire play has been in her perspective from the grave. She reflects on the mistakes she made and how much she wishes she could hug her parents one more time.

After the play's conclusion, the actress, Denise Dean, and Josh Coleman (another representative from Deana's Educational Theater) opened up the floor for a discussion on what the students had seen or heard during the course of the production. The discussion included subjects such as prevention tactics, signs of an abusive relationship, where to seek help if they or a friend find themselves in this type of situation, and addressing the myth that only men can be the abusers in a relationship. Thank you Georgetown Family Justice Center for providing Waccamaw's Juniors and Seniors with this life-saving information. To learn more about the programs offered by Deana's Educational Theater visit www.deanaseducationaltheater.org.

Food Drive Success

The National Honor Society and Chicks for Charity sponsored the "Love Your Neighbors" canned food drive to benefit Friendship Place and Baskervill Food Pantry. The drive was held from February 10th to February 26th with a competition between 4th period classes to see who could collect the most cans. A total of 1,065 cans were collected, almost twice the total from last year. Ms. Herndon's class collected 481 cans taking first place. Her class will receive a pizza party. Coach Quinn's class came in second with 116 cans, and Mrs. Chadwell's class came in third with 97 cans.

The National Honor Society and Chicks for Charity would like to extend a big thanks to all of the students and teachers for their support in making this canned food drive a success.

The "Gene Machine" Arrives at WHS

By Emma Karst

On Tuesday, the Greenwood Genetic Center's "Gene Machine" paid their third visit to Waccamaw High School. The "Gene Machine" is a mobile genetics lab that travels free of charge to middle schools and high schools throughout the state. Greenwood Genetic Center is a non-profit institute which performs clinical genetics services, diagnostic laboratory testing, educational programs, and research in the field of medical genetics. The mission of their genetic education programs is not to teach genetics, but to allow students to use their foresight on the subject while introducing them to the technology a real geneticist would use in a professional lab setting. With the help of Greenwood's teachers Jackie Cascio and Ayla Pittman, students of Ms. Stephenson's AP Biology classes studied how to use the equipment provided for them to isolate DNA from their own cheek samples and amplify a gene using Polymerase Chain Reaction (PCR). Ms. Stephenson's Biology Honors class solved a mystery using DNA and protein samples through gel electrophoresis. Hopefully a few future geneticists and forensic scientists were on board the Gene Machine this year!

Waccamaw Qualifies Six Wrestlers for the State Tournament

Last weekend, Feb. 21st and 22nd, the Waccamaw wrestling team competed in the Lower State Individual Tournament held at Edisto High School. The team made Waccamaw history qualifying six wrestlers for the state tournament, the most in its six years of existence. To qualify for state, the wrestlers had to place inside the top four in their respective weight classes. Gabe Pope (113 lbs.) and Parker Williams (152 lbs.) won the Lower State Championship in their weight class. Arman Singh (126 lbs.), who qualified last year, Connor Summer (138 lbs.), and Shea Burke (145 lbs.) each placed second and Bobby Walters (120 lbs.) placed third. Way to grapple, Warriors!

The state tournament will be held this weekend in Anderson, SC. Good luck wrestlers!

Ole Timers Game

Pictures by Emma Karst

Last Saturday, Feb. 22nd, the Varsity baseball team and 15 former Warrior baseball players participated in the annual Ole Timers Game, a fundraiser for Waccamaw baseball. The game pitted Varsity against the older, wiser players of their time. It was a fun, filled game for everyone but the winner of the day was Varsity with a score of 6-2.

The Ole Timers' roster was filled out by current Waccamaw teacher Rob Phillips (1995), Jeff Gilmore (1996), Clay Gallup (1997), Mark Gallup (1997), Nic Wilson (1999), Jacob Urtz (2002), Austin Williams (2002), Marty Wheeler (2002), Justin Herndon (2002), Brock Grasso (2003), Travis Armour (2005), Wesley Welchel (2006), Tyler Vick (2007), John Whetstone (2009), and Kevin Kies (2013).

Apply for the

2014 National Youth Science Camp (NYSC)

Location: Charleston, West Virginia

Dates: Friday, June 27, 2014 - Sunday, July 20, 2014

High school seniors are being sought to attend the 2014 National Youth Science Camp (NYSC). The awardees will receive a full scholarship to exchange ideas with scientists and other professionals from the academic and corporate worlds. The nearly month-long experience includes lectures and hands-on research projects presented by scientists from across the nation; overnight camping trips into the Monongahela National Forest; and a visit to Washington D.C. The selected delegates should demonstrate academic achievement in science as well as showing potential for thoughtful scientific leadership.

The NYSC experience is offered at no cost to participants so that financial status is not a factor in applying for or attending the camp. Contributions to the National Youth Science Foundation® support delegate participation in this "once in a lifetime" experience. Educational and recreational programming, as well as meals, lodging, and round-trip air fare on scheduled airlines are provided free of charge.

The NYSC is held near Bartow in the eastern mountains of West Virginia, within the Monongahela National Forest.

Application forms can be accessed from the NYSC website at the following link: <http://apply.nysc.org>.

Applications must be submitted online no later than Saturday, March 1, 2014.

Should you have questions or need additional information, please contact Dr. Boyd at dsboyd@ed.sc.gov or 803-734-8537.

Attention Seniors applying to Horry Georgetown Technical College:

If you still need to take the COMPASS placement test for HGTC, please sign up in Guidance by March 3rd.

Attention 9th & 10th grade students:

Please return your signed registration forms to guidance as soon as possible.

Saturday, March 1, 2014

Time: 9 am to 12:30 pm

South Carolina Business Week 2014 Program

When: July 13-18

Location: Presbyterian College

Open to: Current sophomores, juniors, and seniors who are student leaders and performing academically in the top one-third of their class.

Over 30 prominent business executives are invited to teach current business topics related to the challenges facing modern business and the free market system. Students gain valuable information about career options and future opportunities from the relationships and contacts formed with these executives. Other program benefits include the opportunity to compete for a $2,000 Chelse Ward Elliott scholarship, $2,000 Rawl Family scholarship, $3,000 Ron McNair Leadership scholarship and $5,000 S. Hunter Howard, Jr. scholarship. Businesses throughout the state will provide sponsorships to the 200 students accepted to attend. The only cost to the student will be a $50.00 registration fee. The application deadline is April 11th, 2014.

To be accepted into the program, students must?

- Rank academically in the top one-third of your class.
- Have completed their sophomore, junior, or senior year by the end of Spring 2014.
- Possess demonstrated leadership skills through school and community activities
- Complete the enclosed application form in its entirety with the signature of school principal or guidance counselor, and return to the South Carolina Chamber of Commerce.
- Essay: Write a brief (minimum 250 words, maximum 500 words) explanation about what you hope to gain by attending Business Week and how you think this experience will provide a background for your future in the working world. Please type, if possible, or use a pen and write legibly. Please staple to application. Students, including returning students, must submit an original essay. Essays from previous years will not be accepted.
- Students are accepted on a first-come, first-served basis with class rank and application content taken into consideration.
- Upon receipt of applications, students will receive a notification of acceptance within three weeks. Do not include the $50 registration fee with the acceptance. Students will be mailed an acceptance letter detailing when to send the $50 registration fee.
