Article by Kenzie Confer

Congratulations to the Waccamaw Windtalkers as they had three competitors, Jamie NcNair, Amani Huell, and Kenzie Confer, qualify for the National Individual Events Tournament of Champions (NIETOC). Juniors Huell and Confer, accompanied by Coach Ree Lawson, flew to Minnesota on May 8th, and will compete through Sunday afternoon. HERNDON'S COFFEE HOUSE

By Hannah Wolf, Pictures courtesy of Dr. Herndon

Dr. Herndon hosted a class "coffee house" for her English IV classes on Tuesday, May 6th. Students reenacted gatherings from the Enlightenment Era in which people would gather together to discuss important topics and issues that were happening all around them; students created their own pamphlets to pass around their class. Topics ranged from student loans to gay rights to bullying. The event was an overall success and the students enjoyed the coffee, cookies, and tea brought in by Dr. Herndon as well.

CINCO DE MAYO

By Hannah Wolf

Mrs. Aguilar's Spanish classes celebrated Cinco de Mayo on Monday, May 5th. Students brought in various foods including: tortilla chips, queso dip, salsa, and the ingredients for fried ice cream. While enjoying their snacks, the classes each watched a video on the history of Cinco de Mayo. Cinco de Mayo is a day for Mexican-American citizens to celebrate their heritage and the winning of the Battle of Puebla against the French forces in 1862. Students enjoyed the opportunity to spend an entire class period relaxing and learning about the holiday.

The Bands of Waccamaw had their annual BBQ fundraiser this past Friday. Lots of people bought plates for either lunch or dinner. The fundraiser was a success.

SPRING CHORUS CONCERT

Article by Ms. Warr, Choral Director
Pictures by Emma Karst

The Waccamaw High School Chorus presented their Spring Concert on Tuesday evening, May 6th, with a wonderful theme for the year, "Seasons of Love and Peace." Many comments were made about the beautiful performance of the National Anthem at the opening of the concert. In the first part of the concert, Come to the Music by Joseph Martin was presented, with a beautiful piccolo accompaniment by Asaiah Brown and a stunning percussion display by a Waccamaw professional percussionist, Mr. Bates Holman. Holman provided a wonderful background of percussion throughout the concert. Also featured in the early part of the concert was two of our finest freshmen vocalists, Mac Atkinson and Sydney Windham, both singing exquisite pieces keeping the theme of love strong. The other student representing the sophomore class was Heaven Bowers; the junior class: Ashlyn DeLoach; and our senior class:

Alexandra Hight and Will Ness. Alex entertained the audience with a classic Beatles tune, Yesterday, and Will brought an original piece and community favorite, First L-O-V-E to the stage. Each of the senior members of the Waccamaw Chorus was honored with a senior gift and we are so thankful for their contributions to the music and performances at WHS.

Once again, Ian Kelley's film presentation of "Being Human" was shared as a support to the theme of peace as the chorus moved into the second half of the concert with Vijay Singh's Just and Lasting Piece. This powerful piece was introduced by a reading about the text, setting Abraham Lincoln's Second Inaugural Address by Kenzie Confer. The accompaniment featured cellist, Nathan Gates, also a youth from the Georgetown area. The evening closed with a tribute to the Beatles, with

All You Need is Love, featuring Will Ness and Ariana Senn as soloists and lastly, the chorus turned up the energy with Seasons of Love from the musical Rent. Seniors came to the forefront, leading their chorus in movement and clapping on this charged, closing piece. The entire evening radiated the cry for love, peace and the right to dream beyond all limits. Congratulations, Waccamaw Chorus, for your great performance and for your untiring effort to bring the gift of music to our school and community.
