Red Ribbon Week at WHS

By Jed Parreno

From October 23rd until October 31st, Waccamaw, along with other schools in Georgetown County, celebrated Red Ribbon Week. Red Ribbon Week is a national event observed at schools, police departments and community centers throughout the nation that brings awareness to the dangers of narcotics, drug and alcohol abuse.

Throughout the week, activities took place in celebration of Red Ribbon Week. Red Delicious candy apples were sold to students to remind them to "Take a BITE OUT of bullying and drugs." Students signed the "Red Ribbon Week" banner pledging to remain drug-free and band against bullying and drugs. Drug-free bracelets were given out, students and faculty wore red, and "Dare-to-be-Drug-Free" treats were passed out at lunches.

Red Ribbon Week was a good way for students and faculty to come together to stand against drugs and alcohol, and the abuse that comes from drugs and alcohol. The week left a positive message that the students and faculty can pass on to others.

"A Healthy Me is Drug Free."

FALL CHORAL FESTIVAL

Pictures by Matt Lee

Article written by Mrs. Warr

On October 21, the Waccamaw Chorus welcomed Coastal Carolina University to the stage at the Fall Choral Festival. Our students had the opportunity to experience the direction and leadership of Dr. Terri Sinclair, director of the CCU Chamber Choir. With sixty-three Waccamaw students and twenty-three CCU students in attendance, we were all amazed as they joined their voices to sing the Alleluia by Giovanni Battista Pergolesi. The Waccamaw Middle School Chamber Choir and Concert Choir under the direction of Mr. Andrew Trautman, presented a wonderful song set with fifty-three students on stage. WHS Chorus closed their set with a powerful piece, God's Going to Build Up Zion's Walls arranged by John Carter. The CCU ensemble presented a vivid set of culturally rich pieces such Five Hebrew Love Songs by Eric Whitacre and an African piece entitled Tshotsholozo. Great job to all choral students who participated in the 2013 Fall Choral Festival.

Marching Warriors Compete at Lower State and State!

Article by Hannah Wolf, pictures by Mr. Raymond Elling

On Saturday, October 19th, the Marching Warrior Band traveled to West Ashley High School to compete in their Lower State competition. Out of the seventeen other bands that competed, Waccamaw had to place in the top eight to move on to the state finals. After anxiously awaiting the awards ceremony, they finally got to hear their score and rank. They scored a rating of excellent and placed sixth overall. Congratulations Marching Warriors!

After months of hard work and tough practices, the marching season finally came to an end on Saturday, October 26th when the Marching Warrior Band competed in the 2A State Final Marching competition. Competing against a total of eighteen bands for the state title, the Marching Warriors placed eleventh overall. The 58-member marching band, many of which were rookies, performed their show "Out of the Box," featuring three individual movements. Their first movement was entitled "Jack," which highlighted the band's drumline as they popped out of the 8-foot tall Jack in the Box during the first beats of the show. Their second movement, "Jewelry," featured a proposal with a duet by Tyler Elling and Samuel Insignares. Their third and final movement was entitled "Fuse." The show was given a little something extra when the entire band broke out into their own version of the Electric Slide during the last movement.

The marching band has competed in state competitions for the past six years under the direction of Nancy Randall and Chris Graham with choreography by Lisa Arnold. This year, drum major Mary Sinclair Filchak and band captain Tyler Elling led the band to state. "I am so proud of the progress that all of the rookies made. Eleventh place out of so many bands. Fantastic!" said Filchak. Elling said, "Waccamaw is going to be in good hands next year. I am so glad that I was able to be a part of it." Along with Filchak and Elling, who are both seniors, eight other band members competed at state for the last time: Devin Arnold, Ian Crisp, Randi Johnson, Andrew Kopchynski, Jami Pulley, and Conor Rourke.

Before returning to Waccamaw, director Chris Graham told the marchers, "I see two ones in the number eleven, so it's kind of like we got first twice." The marching band will finish the year performing in the Georgetown Christmas Parade, the Breakfast with the Band event, and the Mardi Gras parade at Universal Studios in Orlando. While in Orlando, the musicians will also be able to take part in a studio session to score a piece of a film, learning what it is like to be working musicians for movies.

Congratulations on a successful marching season!

Georgetown County takes Teen Leadership to the Next Level

By Emma Karst

On Wednesday, October 23rd, six eager students (Emma Karst, Brianna Duncan, Chris Keefer, Emee Irvin, Mace Lieberman, Michael Robinson) and an enthusiastic Coach Mike Quinn headed off on a trip to Charleston, where they would take part in a workshop dedicated to the program of Teen Leadership created by the Flippen Group. These students were chosen to attend this field trip by enduring a week long test by their peers, in which they spoke publicly in front of their classes, and also participated in a panel of questioning which was graded by the students in each class. This trip was an opportunity for each student to showcase their capabilities in public speaking, and present their experiences in Teen Leadership in front of an audience of teachers and administrators from across the U.S. The students of Waccamaw were accompanied by three other Teen Leadership students (CJ Bone, Ashton Tisdale, Carrie Mae Hyrowski), from Andrews High School and their teacher, Mr. Kevin Branham. Each teacher introduced his group of students, then every individual courageously stood up in front of the crowd and presented the aspect(s) of the Teen Leadership class they found helpful in their daily lives. With each speech, the room seemed to brighten and the crowd began to see the effect this class had on each student's perspective on school and their lives. To close Waccamaw's presentation time, Coach Quinn stood up in front of the room and read a letter by a former student that illustrated how this class had made an impact on her life. After both schools had taken the time to discuss their feelings about the program, the leader of the workshop, Mrs. Dana, gave a very thoughtful closing speech that led the students, teachers, and the audience to reflect and appreciate their day. By the end of the workshop, the atmosphere in the room was nothing shy of inspirational. The trip, as a whole, helped demonstrate the unity one program can bring, even between two rival schools that practice its curriculum just by spending one day together.

Romeo & Juliet Field Trip

By Jed Parreno

On Tuesday, October 22nd, Mr. Dewalt took his English I students on a field trip to watch the new movie, Romeo & Juliet. He said the movie would help prepare the students for the upcoming Romeo and Juliet section that will be taught in class. The students stopped at CiCi's Pizza for breakfast/early lunch and then headed to Market Commons to watch the movie. Everyone enjoyed the movie, especially the part where the characters Tybalt and Mercutio fought. Mr. Dewalt said, "The movie was good and stayed true to the original play/story that Shakespeare wrote. The trip was very successful."

Student Council Annual Blood Drive

By Matt Lee, Pictures by Yearbook Staff and Information from the American Red Cross.org

On Thursday, October 17th, students lined up in the gym lobby waiting to donate blood for the American Red Cross. The goal of the blood drive was to collect 30 units of blood, but the students and staff went well over, donating 43 units of blood.

The American Red Cross is the largest blood collection agency in the United States and is responsible for the collection and distribution of 40% of donated blood. The American Red Cross Blood Services collects approximately 6.5 million units of blood, from roughly 4 million generous volunteer blood donors. From these donations, the Red Cross is able to distribute around 9.5 million blood products each year, including 6 million units of red blood cells, to patients at approximately 3,000 hospitals and transfusion centers across the country. The blood that the students donated will go to accident victims, cancer patients, surgical candidates, children with blood disorders and many others. Thanks for giving the "Gift of Life".

TRICK-OR-TRUNK

Pictures by Lyric Wigfall

On Tuesday night, the WHS Student Council hosted the annual Halloween "Trick-or-Trunk" event. Clubs and organizations dressed up as their favorite Disney movie characters, decorated their cars, and filled their trunks with candy. From 4:30pm to 6:00pm, in the teacher parking lot, children from the community came by the school for a fun afternoon of trick-or-treating. AP Biology-Peter Pan, Anatomy-Toy Story, Biology Honors-101 Dalmatians, Key Club-101 Dalmatians, Student Council-Aladdin, Young Republicans-Lion King, Yearbook-

Pirates of the Caribbean, JV Cheerleading-Snow White, Varsity Cheerleading- Despicable Me all participated in the event. Everyone had a great time!

Windtalkers Excel at Tournaments

By Jamie McNair, pictures courtesy of Mrs. Lawson

The Waccamaw Windtalkers are at it again! The Competitive Speech team has been working very hard and have much to show from their past two tournaments. The team traveled to Bob Jones Academy in Greenville on October 19th where they competed against 31 schools from three different states. This tournament was a “bid” tournament for the National Individual Events Tournament of Champions. A student must get bids at two different qualifying tournaments throughout the season in order to attend the NIETOC tournament, which will be held in Minnesota this year. Emee Irvin won first place in Dramatic Interpretation as well as a bid. Emee will be working really hard to achieve one more bid so that she can attend the NIETOC tournament. Congratulations, Emee!

On October 26th, the Waccamaw Windtalkers traveled to Irmo High School in Columbia. Due to conflicts with other events, the Competitive Speech team was very small at this tournament, but they gave an amazing showing anyway. The Waccamaw Windtalkers were awarded the “Giant Killer Team” award for having the highest percentage of entered students earning individual awards. The following students earned awards at the Irmo tournament: Sam Averette placed 6th in Humorous Interpretation and 5th in Novice Reading, Alex Jaouiche placed 4th in Declamation and 4th in Novice Reading, and Jake Homan placed 6th place in Children’s Literature and 3rd in Declamation. Great job, Windtalkers!

WHS STUDENT COUNCIL HOSTS DISTRICT RALLY

Article by SC President Amani Atkins, pictures by Lindsay Jessmore

On Friday, October 25, the WHS student Council hosted the annual South Carolina Association of Student Council District 2 Rally, where over 200 students and their advisors came to discuss and share ideas to enhance their councils. Allie Jones, District 2 Chair and Banks Lucas, District 2 Vice-Chair led the event. The theme was "Exploring Leadership" and the building was decorated with a safari theme to make the day a little more fun. Welcoming the students and advisors were Dr. Hammel, principal, Dr. Dozier, GCSD Superintendent, and Ms.

Allie Jones, Lindsay Jessmore, and Banks Lucas

Lola Richbourg, Executive Director of SCASC. The keynote speaker was Representative Steven Goldfinch who brought inspiration and momentum to the rally. Throughout the day, students attended workshops such as Homecoming, Blood Drive, more about SCASC, etc. The rally ended with everyone enjoying games and swapping ideas to benefit their school. Our National Honor Society helped to decorate and distribute breakfast and lunch. The WHS Student Council is very thankful for the opportunity to host this event and appreciate all of the faculty, students, staff, and community members who donated drinks, food, money and time to make this a successful rally.

Each leaf represents a school that attended the rally.

This weekend some of the Student Council members will be traveling to Wade Hampton for the Southern Association of Student Council conference which is very similar to the District Rally; however, it is over a three day period and includes student councils from 15 southeastern states. We are very excited to continue to develop our ideas and leadership skills to make WHS an even more spirited and involved school.

Senior Recognition Night

Pictures by Emma Karst, Coach Cribb, Mr. Robby Jones, and Matt Lee

On Friday, October 25th, seniors from football, cheerleading, competitive cheer, marching band, cross country, volleyball, twirlers, chorus, and tennis were recognized at the last home football game. Each student was escorted by a family member to line up in front of the crowd and receive a rose.

Girls Golf Competes in Lower State

By Sarah Ball
Picture by
Mrs. Laura Hutto

On Tuesday, Oct. 22nd, the WHS girls golf team participated in the A-AAA Lower State tournament. Four girls from the team played, and their overall scores were: Kelly Kaz—101, Connor Graham—103, Haven Busbee—111, and Lauren Hammond—114. At this tournament, Kaz, Busbee, and Hammond had their lowest scores of the season in nine holes. The team came in 13th place knocking them out of the state tournament; thus ending the Waccamaw girls 2013 golf season. Coach Noll stated, "With all the players returning next season, we look to improve greatly. The potential to qualify for state next year is very high, and with hard work in the off season we will make qualifying a guarantee."

Waccamaw Sailing Club donates 125 hours to Wooden Boat Show

Article by Mrs. Ashley DesMarteau, picture by Mrs. O'Tuel

WHS sailors and parents came Saturday, October 19th, to support the Georgetown Wooden Boat Show. While some students have been involved with the event in the past, this weekend showed record numbers of WHS students getting involved. Some students helped with a food booth selling BBQ, others helped with selling raffle tickets, and a few students worked throughout the event to support events on the water. It takes a huge group of volunteers to make the award winning event such a huge success and WHS 125 hours of support was a great help. Thanks Warriors!
