

Setting Up & Your Elmo 101

This is the correct placement of the board & orientation of the lens arm to the body of the Elmo that will result in an image that is displayed right-side-up on your SmartBoard.

Your Elmo should be connected to your computer with the gray USB cable only. The USB cable to the computer & the black power cable are the only cables you need to have plugged into the Elmo.

To view images from your Elmo, make sure it is on (power light on the Elmo will be blue), then click the Image Mate Icon on your desktop to open the program. You should then see whatever you have placed under your Elmo on your computer screen & on your projector if it is on.
