Cadets listed with an event on the timeline will be in charge at the start of the event and may change positions during the event. The Cadet listed will know how to lead/execute their assigned event. For example, Platoon and Company drill must know commands and how to execute commands. Some of the commands include but are not limited to the following:

Counter Column

File from the left, right, or in sequence

Close on lead Platoon

Reporting procedures (Officer and Enlisted)

Extended Rectangular Formation.

The extended rectangular formation is the traditional formation for most physical training activities. The instructor positions a platoon in line formation; the platoon is centered on the instructor and five paces away. "Extend to the left, MARCH". Cadets in the right flank file stand fast with their arms extended to the sides at shoulder level. All other cadets extend to the left. The distance between fingertips is about 12 inches and dress is right. After taking a sufficient number of steps all cadets face the front; each has both arms extended to the sides at shoulder level.

"From front to rear, COUNT OFF". The leading cadet in each column turns head to the right rear and calls off, "one", and faces the front. Successive cadets in each column call off in turn, "two," "three," "four," and so on. The last cadets in each column will not turn the head to the right while sounding off.

"Even numbers to the left, UNCOVER". All even-numbered cadets step to the left squarely in the center of the interval, bringing their feet together. The unit is now ready for stretching and warm-up exercises. To return to the original formation after exercise,

"Assemble to the right, MARCH." Cadets double-time to their original positions in column or line formation.

a. The company normally forms in a line formation; however, it may re-form in column when each man can identify his exact position (equipment grounded) in the formation.

b. The company forms basically the same as the platoon. On the command FALL IN; (At Close Interval), FALL IN, the platoons form in line, centered on and facing the person forming the unit, with five-step intervals between platoons.

c. The company may be formed by the first sergeant and platoon sergeants or by the company commander and platoon leaders. When possible, the platoons assemble near the formation site before the arrival of the first sergeant or company commander. If the company is formed by the noncommissioned officers, the platoon leaders normally observe the procedures from a position to the rear of their platoons.

(1) When the company is formed by the noncommissioned officers, the following procedures apply:

(a) The first sergeant posts himself nine steps in front of (center) and facing the line where the front rank of each platoon is to form. He then commands FALL IN; (At Close Interval), FALL IN.

(b) On the command of execution, the platoons form in the same manner prescribed in platoon drill.

Each platoon sergeant faces his platoon while the platoons are forming and directs his platoon to adjust (if necessary) and align on the platoon to its right at the correct interval (as described in paragraph 8-5).

Once the platoon is formed, the platoon sergeants face about.

NOTE: If the command At Close Interval, FALL IN is given, the members of the platoon form at close interval; however, the five-step interval between platoons is maintained.

(c) When all of the platoon sergeants are facing to the front, the first sergeant commands (if appropriate) Inspection, ARMS; Ready, Port, ARMS; Order (Sling), ARMS. He then directs (if appropriate) RECEIVE THE REPORT. The platoon sergeants face about and command REPORT.

i. When a report is appropriate, the platoon sergeant commands REPORT. The squad leaders, in succession from front to rear, turn their heads and eyes toward the platoon sergeant and salute (holding the Salute until returned) and report. The squad leaders do not state the unit. For example:
Situation 1. When all squad members are in formation, the report is "All present."
Situation 2. When squad members are absent, the Soldiers and reasons for absence are reported:
Pvt. Smith - CQ runner, Pvt. Jones - sick call, Pvt. Williams - AWOL.
ii.. The platoon sergeant turns his head and eyes toward the reporting squad leader, receives the report, and returns the salute. After receiving the report from the squad leaders, the platoon sergeant faces about and awaits the arrival of the platoon leader or a directive from the first sergeant to REPORT. When the platoon leader has halted at his post, the platoon sergeant salutes and reports, "Sir, All present"; or "Sir, All accounted for"; or "Sir, (so many) men absent." The platoon leader returns the Salute. After the Salute has been returned, the platoon sergeant faces to the right in marching, inclines around the squad leaders, halts at his post, and faces to the right. If reporting to the first sergeant, the platoon sergeant turns his head and eyes toward the first sergeant, salutes, and reports.

- If the platoon leader is not present for the formation, and the commander is in charge of the formation, the platoon sergeant steps forward three steps (after receiving the squad leader's report) and, on the command POST, assumes the duties of the platoon leader.
- iv. When appropriate, the platoon may be formed by the platoon leader rather than by the platoon sergeant. The procedures are the same as previously described except that the first squad forms six steps in front of and centered on the platoon leader, and the platoon sergeant forms at his post to the rear of the platoon. For continuity purposes in this chapter, "platoon sergeant" may also denote "platoon leader" when the platoon leader is executing drill from his post.

Having received the report, the platoon sergeants face about.

When the company commander has halted at his post, the first sergeant salutes and reports, "Sir, all present," or "Sir, all accounted for," or "Sir, (so many) men absent." The company commander returns the Salute and commands POST. The first sergeant faces about and marches to his post three steps to the rear and at the center of the company, halts, and faces about. The guidon bearer steps forward three steps. The platoon sergeants face to the right in marching and assume their posts to the rear of their platoons (if the platoon leader is not present, they step forward three steps). The platoon leaders march around the left flank of their platoons and assume their posts by inclining facing to the front. The company executive officer assumes his post two steps to the rear of the first sergeant. (2) When the company is formed by the company commander, the procedures are the same as forming with the noncommissioned officers except that the platoon leaders form their platoons and the first sergeant, platoon sergeants, and guidon bearer fall in at their posts (Figure 8-1). The command POST is not necessary. If a platoon sergeant is to fill the post of platoon leader, he takes a position six steps in front of and centered on the platoon.

When all platoon sergeants are facing to the front, the first sergeant commands REPORT. The platoon sergeants turn their head and eyes toward the first sergeant, salute Chapter 7) in succession from right to left. The first sergeant turns his head and eyes toward the reporting platoon sergeant and returns each Salute individually. Having received the report from the platoon sergeants, the first sergeant faces about and awaits the arrival of the company commander if the commander is scheduled to receive the company. NOTE: If the commander is not scheduled to receive or inspect the company, the first sergeant and platoon sergeants remain at their posts and execute company drill from their posts. For continuity purposes, the term commander may also be used to denote the first sergeant, just as platoon leader may be used to denote the platoon sergeant when the commander and platoon leaders are conducting company drill from their posts.

The army colors
The color is red
To show the world
The blood we shed
The army colors
The color is white
The color is blue
To show the world
That we are true
Your left right left
Your left right your left
Now stay in step
The army colors
To show the world
We're lean and mean

Blue Screeeeeeeen

Marching /BLUE SCREEN of DEATH

Early at night, drizzlin' rain
I am hit and feel no pain
Fighting for those I hold so dear
But in my heart I have no fear
Hail O' Hail O' Infantry
Queen of battle follow me
O' nothing in this world is free
Airborne rangers the life for me
On the stretcher flat on my back
Doc is calling a MEDAVAC
I look to the sky and wonder why
For freedom sake that some must die
Hail O' Hail O' Infantry
Queen of battle follow me
O' nothing in this world is free
Airborne rangers the life for me
Airborne rangers the life for me
Can't figure out what's going on I know this isn't right

From a big bird in the sky
All will jump and some will die
Off to battle we will go
To live or die, I dont know
Hail O' Hail O' Infantry
Queen of battle follow me
O' nothing in this world is free
Airborne rangers the life for me
Up in the morning, outta the rack
Greeted at dawn by a mortar attack
First Sergeant rushes me off to chow
But I don't eat, it anyhow
Hail O' Hail O' Infantry
Queen of battle follow me
O' nothing in this world is free
Airborne rangers the life for me
They flash and burst around me
Jagged shrapnel it does fly
Kills my buddy, makes me cry
Hail O' Hail O' Infantry
Queen of battle follow me
O' nothing in this world is free
Airborne rangers the life for me

Breaking Ranks

When the situation requires one or more individuals to leave the formation or to receive specific instructions from the platoon sergeant, the platoon sergeant directs: "Private Doe (pause), front and center"; or, "The following personnel front and center—Private Doe (pause), Private Smith." When the individual's name is called, he assumes the position of attention and replies, "Here, Sergeant (Sir)." He then takes one (15-inch) step backward, halts, faces to the right (left) in marching, and exits the formation by marching to the nearest flank. The Soldier does not look left or right. Once the individual has cleared the formation, he begins to double-time and halts two steps in front of and centered on the platoon sergeant.

NOTE: When a group of individuals are called from the formation, the group forms centered on the platoon sergeant. The platoon sergeant should direct (point) the first man into position so that the rank will be centered when the last man has joined the group.

Counting Off

The platoon counts off in the same manner as the squad. When in a line formation, the squads count in unison from right to left; each squad leader sounds off, "ONE." When in a column formation, the men abreast of each other count in unison from front to rear; each squad leader sounds off, "ONE."

Marching Cadence/In the Early Morning Rain

Friends all thought I was insane
 Signed up to lend a hand
 Gonna be a fightin man
 In the Early Morning Rain
 Say goodbye to my girl
 All I had in this world
 Somewhere someones in need
 All they want is to be free
 C-130 on the line
 Headin out just one more time
 As we all begin to go
 To the battle far below
 Hit the ground look up to see Theres a sniper in the tree
 Fired off that fatal round
 Watch as he comes fallin down
 My position overrun
 No more bullets for my gun
 Pass the word I aint done yet
 As I grab my bayonet
 Now I law me down to rest
 With a bullet in my chest
 Tell em all I felt no pain
 In the early morning rain

Marching/Old King Cole

Old King Cole was a merry old soul,
a merry old soul was he.
He called for his pipe and he called for his bowl and he called for his Privates three.
Coke! Coke! Coke! Said the Privates.
What merry men are we! but none so fair that we can compare to the Airborne Infantry!
Old King Cole was a merry old soul,
a merry old soul was he.
He called for his pipe and he called for his bowl and he called for his Corporals three.
I need a three day pass said the Corporal
Coke! Coke! Coke! Said the Privates.
What merry men are we! but none so fair that we can compare to the Airborne Infantry!
Old King Cole was a merry old soul,
a merry old soul was he.
He called for his pipe and he called for his bowl and he called for his Sergeants three.
Left right left said the Sergeant.
I need a three day pass said the Corporal
Coke! Coke! Coke! Said the Privates.
What merry men are we! but none so fair that we can compare to the Airborne Infantry!
Old King Cole was a merry old soul,
a merry old soul was he.

E - is for Everyday

Went to the Mess Sergeant

Went to the Mess Sergeant on my knees,
Mess Sergeant, Mess Sgt, feed me please
Mess Sergeant said with a mean ol' grin
If ya' wanna be cadet you gotta be thin
The peas were greasy and the meat was fat
And there was not way I was going to eat that Now I'm a lean, mean fighting machine
Thanks, to Mess Sergeant being so mean

UP IN The Morning

Up in the morning and it ain't no joke
My First Sergeant was bringin smoke
Had the NCOs in front of his desk
And had the lieutenant in the leaning rest
Was it the whiskey or was it the wine
Or was you shammin at P-T time!
Lieutenant, Lieutenant don't be blue
I was shammin during PT too

Cokei Cokei Said the Privates.
I need a three day pass said the Corporal
Left night left said the Sergeant.
What do I do now? Said the El Tee.
Who's gonna drive my Vehicle? Said the Captain.
I need a bigger desk said the major.
When can I play golf? Said the Colonel.
Keep those Privates straight! Said the Generals he called for his Generals three.
He called for his pipe and he called for his bowl and

When My Granny was 91
When my granny was 91
She did PT just for fun
She did PT better then you
When my Granny turned 92
She did PT better then me
When my Granny turned 94
She did PT more and more
When ol granny turned 95
She did PT to stay alive
When my Granny turned 96
She did PT just for kicks
She up and died and went to heaven
She met Saint Peter at the Pearly Gate
She said Saint Pete, I hope I'm not late
Saint Peter looked At Granny with a grin Get down Granny and knock out ten Granny looked at Saint Peter and said with a smile
I can't, Saint Pete, I got a profile!

C-130 rollin' down the strip
S.D. Cadet on a one way trip
Mission top secret, destination unknown
Don't even know if they're coming home
Stand up, hook up, shuffle to the door
Jump right out and count to four
If my main don't open wide
I got a reserve on my side
If that one should fall me too
Look out ground I coming through Saw an Ol' Lady Walkin'
Saw an ol' lady walking down the street
Ruck on her back, jump boots on her feet
Said to the old lady, don't you think yer too old?
Ya better leave that stuff for the young and bold
She said, Hey young punk who ya talking to?
I'm the chief instructor at the Airborne School
With taek on her back and fins on her feet
Later that day, she was back on the street
I said, Hey old lady where ya going to?
I said, Hey old lady, don't ya think yer to old?
Scuba School is for the brave and bold
She said, Hey young punk, who ya talking to?
I'm an instructor at the scuba school
