

Summer Reading: Kindergarten

Beliefs about Summer Reading

- Children are made readers on the laps of their parents.
- Reading aloud to children is one of the most important things a parent can do to help children succeed in school and in life.
- Reading aloud to children stimulates and accelerates a child's vocabulary, language and literacy development and overall intellectual growth.

- Reading aloud is a “gift” from a parent to a child.
- Reading aloud is based on love.
- Reading aloud fosters a love of books and a love of reading within a child.
- Reading aloud stretches a child's mind and imagination.

Kindergarten teachers would like students to be familiar with:

- Traditional Fairytales – Any version of the Gingerbread Man
- Informational Texts: Counting books like
 - Inch by Inch by Leo Lionni
 - The Cheerios Counting Book by Barbara McGarth

It is good for children to be familiar with traditional stories.
