Warning Students!

Don’t let Social Media stand in your way!

College admissions, scholarships, recruiters might be impressed with your GPA but they may also review any past post and pictures you have placed on social media.

Be careful what you post, you could be denied college admissions as a result.