

We Are Going on a Field Trip!

Who: 4th Grade

When: Monday, November 12, 2018

Where: Blandy Experimental Farm in Boyce, VA

What: Virginia Natives (3rd-4th)

Students will evaluate Virginia's native food webs and energy flow in watershed systems as they investigate the relationships among producers, consumers, and decomposers in the forest layers of the Arboretum's Native Plant Trail habitat. Through collection and analysis of data, observations, and sketches, your ecosystem scientists investigate interdependencies and how organisms interact within their ecosystem.

Science SOL: 4.1, 4.4, 4.5, 4.9

Math SOL: 4.7, 4.14

Fee: $4 per student

What to bring: Bagged lunch and drink

What to wear: Dress to be outside, sneakers
