

Hurley Elementary Middle School Makes Learning Fun! Who Did It?

Fifth grade students at HEMS unpacked their adjectives for this hilarious activity in Mrs. Charlotte Ashby's Classroom.

The class was divided in to 2 groups. Each had to describe a suspect seen leaving the scene of a great jewel heist. Upon completion of the description, papers were exchanged by the teacher with the opposite side. Each had to draw a picture of the suspect based upon the written description provided.

From some of the pictures, HEMS may just have a few police artists among them!
