SCHOOL PSYCHOLOGICAL SERVICES

Psycho-educational assessment of students referred because of learning and/or behavior problems is the responsibility of a qualified psychological examiner. A comprehensive evaluation including psychological testing and clinical assessment shall be required for diagnosis and special education program planning for students with disabilities who exhibit intellectual disabilities, specific learning disabilities, and/or emotional and behavioral disorders. Psychological services may also be provided to determine eligibility in other areas such as speech-language disorder, visual impairment, orthopedic impairment, or significant developmental delay.
