

President's Corner

Notes from the Executive Director

Greetings G-CASE Friends,

Stronger than Ever!

Well, it looks like we're almost there! We are quickly approaching June and slowly starting to enjoy some sense of normalcy. Despite the craziness of this past year, G-CASE has accomplished a lot and is stronger than ever because of all of you.

Tris Gilland

We are proud to share that many have provided positive feedback regarding our monthly webinars, our Spring Legal Conference was very successful....and.... (insert drum roll)...G-CASE was awarded the Communications Award from National CASE again this year! What a year it turned out to be after all! I am thankful to end this year with G-CASE in a wonderful place and I look forward to an even more productive year next year.

That said, as you all are planning to wrap up this school year, I ask that you please take (at least) a moment to reflect on/celebrate your own successes. I know you've all moved many mountains this year! Lastly, please hold November 17th-19th on your calendars for Fall Conference in Savannah. We are busy planning a spectacular conference for you – which already includes a special night hosted by TeachTown. Can't wait to see your beautiful, smiling faces.

-Tris

IN spite of, or maybe TO spite, this challenging year, G-CASE has emerged stronger than ever!

From professional learning opportunities (cultural responsiveness, strengthening virtual instruction, compensatory education, increasing achievement, keeping staff motivated, collaborative conversations, panel discussions, webinars, and even an actual conference) to legislative actions (remember those voucher bills that just kept coming?) to our ongoing loyal partnership with the GaDOE and GAEL, G-CASE has sought to communicate "all things special education" to you all year. And now, we are ready to share professional learning with a brand new group – the first cohort of the G-CASE Special Education Administrator Development Academy. And we are so excited!

Sarah Burbach

We were (happily) overwhelmed by the 76 applications we received for the 25 spots in the Academy. We knew the need was out there and are so proud that G-CASE can support our member systems by offering this group the skills they need to move up to the next level. A rubric specific to the "ideal" candidate for the Academy was created, and each application was scored by a committee based on the rubric.

The excitement is building from our first group of selected teacher leaders and our G-CASE ADA (Administrator Development Academy) facilitators! We have state and national presenters scheduled throughout the year, along with G-CASE, CEC, and CASE memberships for each participant. You will have the opportunity to meet our first cohort at the G-CASE Fall Conference in Savannah in November and then share in our pride upon their "graduation" at the Spring Legal Forum in Athens in March. And... our fabulous partner Teach Town is sponsoring the Academy, so you know it will be special, fun, and memorable!

We can't wait!

-Sarah

2021 LILLIE MONCUS SPECIAL EDUCATION DIRECTOR OF THE YEAR

Dr. MaryKay Berry, Special Education Director for the White County Schools, was named the 2021 Lillie Moncus Special Education Director of the Year at the 2021 G-CASE Spring Legal Forum held at The Classic Center in Athens. This award is the highest honor an experienced special education administrator in Georgia can receive. It is presented to an experienced special education administrator who has demonstrated outstanding leadership and service in the area of special education. The winner characterizes resourcefulness, compassion, and professionalism as a leader and has earned the respect of teachers, students, parents, and fellow administrators. Dr. Berry exemplifies these qualities as she works to improve outcomes for students with disabilities at the local level in White County and the state level with her involvement with the Council of Exceptional Children and the Georgia Council of Administrators of Special Education, where she serves on the Executive Board.

G-CASE Honors John O'Connor with the Friend of G-CASE Award

Nationally known speaker, author, and G-CASE member John O'Connor was honored with the "Friend of G-CASE" Award at the 2021 G-CASE Spring Legal Forum. John came to the rescue of special education teachers in August by demonstrating by example how they could "strengthen virtual instruction for students with disabilities." He led a G-CASE Lunch and Learn Webinar that was offered to general and special education leaders with "7 Big Ideas to Increase Learning and Achievement for Students with Disabilities," and led G-CASE Drive-In Conferences (Increasing the Achievement of Students with Disabilities...And ALL Students) in Houston and Ware Counties before COVID closures. John is a strong G-CASE member and supporter, Past-President of SSTAGE, and Co-Chair and Founder of the Georgia Dyslexia Collaborative.

John started his special education career as a teacher serving students with orthopedic impairments. He has held many administrative positions, including Program Manager with the Georgia Department of Education and numerous roles in local districts: Assistant Director, Director, Executive Director, and Assistant Superintendent. Along the way, John wrote five books, a textbook chapter, and many articles. The 2nd edition of his well-known and well-used "Great Instruction" book (Great Instruction Great Achievement for Students with Disabilities: A Road Map for Special Education Administrators) will be published in May. Since his retirement in 2018, he has provided training and instructional coaching to thousands of administrators and teachers in nine states, including being the closing keynote speaker at the recent national CASE Conference.

Dr. Damita James,
GaCEC President

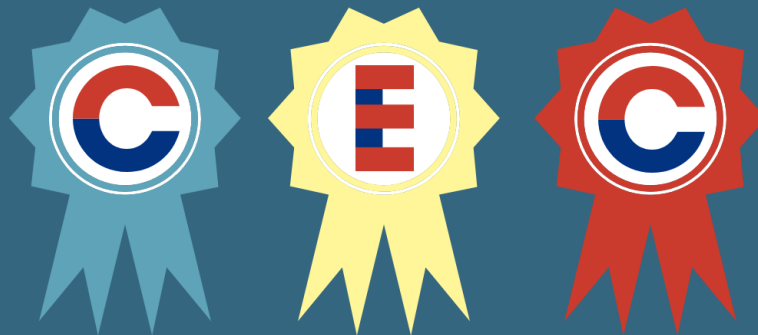

Lao Tzu once said that, "The journey of a thousand miles begins with a single step" and we have put one foot in front of the other as we have journeyed through this school year. Despite all of the challenges that we may have faced on this journey, we have shown that we as special educators are "virtually unstoppable", which was our GaCEC Exceptional Children's Week theme for this year. Through our celebration, we were able to highlight many of your students and teachers on the exceptional work they are accomplishing throughout the state. We want to continue to honor them through our GaCEC awards.

Nominations are being accepted until June 1, 2021. Nominate a deserving person today!

We need your help to update our member information. Many of you are members of CEC but may not be associated with a particular chapter. According to the National CEC, we have approximately 24 chapters in Georgia but the Executive Board is only aware of three. Please take a moment to complete the survey in the link below so that we can connect with you and support your chapter. Thank you! Link to Membership Survey

“A Great Way to Receive Complimentary G-CASE and GAEL Memberships...And Amplify Your VOICE for Public Education!”

April 30, 2021

Happy Spring! On behalf of the GAEL organization, please allow me to congratulate all the members of G-CASE for the phenomenal job you have done in serving our most vulnerable children in Georgia. I cannot imagine how difficult it has been to find ways to serve them throughout the challenges of the pandemic, and I am thankful that we have champions like you in public education who have our students' backs through thick and thin.

I also would like to brag on your Executive Director Sarah Burbach, your President Tris Gilland, and our future 2023 GAEL President, Dr. Zabrina Cannady. Working with them throughout the last year, I cannot imagine a more dedicated group of leaders for G-CASE, for educating students with disabilities in Georgia, and for the GAEL Umbrella. You are fortunate indeed to be represented so well, and I am honored to call them colleagues.

As you know, if you are not a member of G-CASE and GAEL, it is difficult to have a voice at the state level when it comes to law and policy affecting your work as leaders and ensuring that our students' best interests and federal rights are kept at the forefront of state policy. To be frank, I cannot imagine having a complete conversation about public education at the Capitol each winter without having the full contingency of G-CASE involved with GAEL.

When I or Dr. Jimmy Stokes testify in a legislative committee hearing or sit at the table on various advisory councils for our state government and the Department of Education, it is vital that they know the membership we have behind us.

RECEIVE COMPLIMENTARY MEMBERSHIPS IN G-CASE AND GAEL NEXT YEAR:

If you agree, we have a great way for you to not only renew your membership in G-CASE for free next year, but also gain a complimentary annual membership in GAEL as well:

All you have to do is register for the Professional Learning from the Summer GAEL Conference “Livestream” edition at www.gael.org (ask your system about using CARES/ARP funds for professional learning), and we will grant you complimentary annual memberships in G-CASE and GAEL in 2021-2022.

With your PL registration, you will get access to great keynote speakers who will speak on topics like increasing equity of student access to positive educational outcomes, educating students in poverty, and building positive school culture. You will hear from school systems all over the state who will share their “Promising Practices” around addressing “COVID-Loss,” equity and equality, and innovative ways to serve students post-pandemic. You will hear the annual “Back to School Checklist” from Phil Hartley.

AND...you will ensure that you have your membership next year in two organizations dedicated to uplifting public education in Georgia, supporting educational leaders, and guarding the best interests of our children:

G-CASE and GAEL! Register for the Summer GAEL Livestream Conference at www.gael.org.

The International Council of Administrators of Special Education (CASE) Helps Special Educators find Exceptional Products for Instruction and Data Management

One of the many benefits of being a CASE member is to know that the CASE Product Review Committee has rigorously reviewed the products, programs, and services you are contemplating purchasing. To be CASE-endorsed, companies have to address eight different areas, including their product description, research, feasibility, and target market. And, every three years, re-endorsement must be obtained. The CASE Committee, consisting of leaders in Special Education, reviews and endorses various research-based products designed to improve outcomes for our students, so you know you will be purchasing top-quality endorsed products.

Before purchasing your next product, check to see if it's on the CASE Endorsed Product List. If it is, you can buy it with the confidence of knowing it has been thoroughly vetted by special education leaders from across the county who have determined its worth. All of the companies selling CASE-endorsed products will be invited to exhibit at the G-CASE Fall Conference in Savannah so that you can learn first-hand about each one!

CASE-Endorsed products proudly carry this logo.

Georgia Council for Administrators for Special Education

G-CASE General Business Meeting Tuesday, March 9, 2021

The G-CASE General Business Meeting was called to order by President Tris Gilland. This meeting included all members attending the G-CASE Spring Conference live or virtually.

Chair Gilland shared the following information:

- The Minutes from the November 2020 G-CASE General Business Meeting were approved by the Executive Board and will be posted on the website
- As of December, which is our most current financial report received from GAEL; G-CASE had an unreconciled total balance of $306,434.08, which includes checking and savings accounts. Chair Gilland remarked that we “are indebted to the G-CASE leaders who served before us for creating a reserve fund that we have had to dip into this year because of COVID cancellations.”
- G-CASE leaders attended the CEC/CASE virtual conference in November, where our own Dr. Brad Bowling was recognized as the national CASE Early Career Special Education Administrator. We will be participating in the virtual CEC International Conference this weekend.
- We began the school year with our own John O'Connor, instructing 189 teachers and administrators on strengthening virtual instruction for students with disabilities. Then, we shared a three-part webinar on Cultural Responsiveness and Responsibility; both offered free to G-CASE members.
- We continue to host the successful Lunch and Learn Monthly Webinar Series through the end of this school year, with 245 G-CASE partners participating.
- COVID has not stopped G-CASE from moving forward with two important initiatives: The Special Education Administrator Development Academy and the Georgia Dyslexia Collaborative. More information about these exciting projects will be shared during this conference.
- We have 421 G-CASE members on our rolls, which is slightly lower than in previous years because most of our members renew at Fall Conference, which was canceled. However, we are building this number back up as people sign up for webinars and conferences. Georgia boasts 251 members of CEC/CASE, which is outstanding.
- All five new policies and/or amendments to the G-CASE Constitution were approved. They include:
  - Our Do-Over Year for G-CASE Officers
  - G-CASE Succession to GAEL Presidency
  - Virtual Meetings and Voting
  - Four new Membership Levels; and retaining the
  - Current G-CASE Membership fee
- Legislative Co-Chairs Jenny Millward and Sean Cooper attended the PAGE/GAEL/GAECT "Day at the Capitol" and continue to take an active role in encouraging our members to communicate with their legislators regarding bills that affect education. The Chair thanked the members for the letters, calls, and texts sent to their legislators about the House and Senate Voucher bills.

The meeting was adjourned at 9:00 A.M.

G-CASE Needs Your Feedback

As conferences, drive-ins, and webinars are being planned for the next school year, G-CASE needs your feedback. Please take this quick five-question survey

<https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/HVZWBJM> regarding your system's Fall and Spring Breaks and topics/questions you may want to have covered. Thanks so much for helping us make sure we provide the professional learning you need!

G-CASE: Best Communicators in the Nation (Again!)

G-CASE is the best communicator in the nation, AGAIN!

It was just announced at the virtual National CASE Membership Conference that G-CASE is the winner of the National CASE Award for Communication! We received that same designation from CASE last year, too.

G-CASE was awarded this honor based on the “timely” special edition of the COVID-19 newsletter immediately following school closures, containing resources for distance learning and best practices for serving students with disabilities, which was picked up and shared with various organized leadership groups across Georgia so that non-special education, general education leaders could learn more about the expectations of serving students with disabilities in their schools and systems; our electronic surveys to obtain member feedback about conferences, responses to state inquiries regarding special education, and use as a ballot for G-CASE votes; virtual sessions throughout the year for members regarding equity, remote learning, re-starting school, and dyslexia; and our “Collaborative Conversations” webinars featuring our Executive Board and Dr. Smith-Dixon. Our website and social media presence were also lauded.

Special thanks to our G-CASE Executive Board Communications Chairs Jenny Carpenter (Newsletter) and Kitty Crawford (Social Media), along with then-President Zabrina Cannady for pouncing on the need to get COVID information out to our members as soon as schools closed; to John O'Connor, who offered up a very-well attended webinar on “Strengthening Virtual Instruction for Students with Disabilities” just when our teachers needed it, to Dr. Zephine Smith-Dixon for partnering with G-CASE this entire year to share new information to our directors, and the G-CASE Executive Board, for sharing successes and ideas for serving our students via remote learning (when we weren’t even quite sure what we were doing!) during that first virtual Collaborative Conversation with our members.

G-CASE communicates!

GEORGIA DYSLEXIA COLLABORATIVE ALREADY MAKING A DIFFERENCE!

THE GEORGIA DYSLEXIA COLLABORATIVE, COMPRISED OF OVER 50 REPRESENTATIVES FROM G-CASE, SSTAGE, GAESP, GACIS, GASP, TEACHERS, AND SPEECH/LANGUAGE PATHOLOGISTS, IS ALREADY MAKING A DIFFERENCE.

THE GROUP HAS CLOSELY REVIEWED THE DRAFT DYSLEXIA/SST RULE (160-4-2-.32 STUDENT SUPPORT TEAM) AND HAS MADE PUBLIC COMMENTS EACH TIME THE DRAFT HAS BEEN POSTED. SEVERAL OF THESE COMMENTS HAVE ALREADY BEEN INCORPORATED INTO THE RULE TO BE VOTED ON BY THE STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION AT THEIR JUNE MEETING. MEMBERS OF THE COLLABORATIVE AGREE THAT EFFECTIVE TIER 1 INSTRUCTION CONTINUES TO BE A SIGNIFICANT COMPONENT FOR PRODUCING GOOD READERS AND HAVE SPENT TIME DURING EACH MONTH’S WEBINAR DISCUSSING THE IMMEDIATE NEED FOR MAJOR TIER 1 INTERVENTIONS TO BE IN PLACE IN THE FALL WHEN SCHOOL BEGINS IN ORDER TO ATTEMPT TO CIRCUMVENT REGRESSION DUE TO COVID. THE GROUP ALSO RECOGNIZES THE NEED FOR OUR SCHOOL AND SYSTEM LEADERS TO CLEARLY UNDERSTAND RESEARCH-BASED READING INSTRUCTION TO ENSURE THAT IT IS USED EFFECTIVELY IN THE CLASSROOM EVERY DAY.

BE ON THE LOOKOUT THIS FALL FOR DRIVE-IN CONFERENCES DESIGNED FOR ALL EDUCATORS INVOLVED WITH READING INSTRUCTION, STUDENT SUPPORT TEAMS, INTERVENTIONS, PROGRESS MONITORING, AND ASSESSMENTS FOR CHILDREN EXHIBITING CHARACTERISTICS OF DYSLEXIA SO THAT BY THE 2023-2024 SCHOOL YEAR, ALL SYSTEMS WILL BE PREPARED AND EQUIPPED TO IMPLEMENT THIS NEW RULE.

G-CASE Lunch and Learn Webinar Series A Success

Two hundred forty-eight (248) special educators from across the state took part in G-CASE's monthly Lunch and Learn Webinars this year. Originally designed to "make up for" not being able to provide topical information to our members because of the cancellation of the G-CASE Fall Conference, these webinars have provided just the right amount of new information and motivation each month. Webinars featured Collaborative Conversations with Dr. Zephine Smith-Dixon at the GaDOE, Best Practices for Compensatory Education shared by some of our own G-CASE Special Education Directors, Seven Big Ideas to Increase Learning and Achievement for Students with Disabilities, led by John O'Connor and opened up to all special education teachers and leaders, and Keeping Staff Motivated During Trying Times, featuring Dr. Rona Roberts. Professional Learning at its best!

We have also been proud to have these webinars sponsored by some of our great G-CASE partners: eLuma, Goalbook, TeachTown, eTherapy, Go Solutions, NWEA, and Best Buddies.

Hybrid Spring Legal Forum REALLY Worked

Whether you were one of the 125 G-CASE members who participated in the Spring Legal Forum LIVE in Athens or one of the 181 members who participated in the LIVESTREAM version virtually, the 2021 Spring Conference was a huge success! General sessions featuring Human Resources Tips for Special Education Administrators, Legislative, Legal, and GaDOE Updates, Manifestation Determination Best Practices, Lessons on Leadership, G-CASE Awards, and Special G-CASE Initiatives (Georgia Dyslexia Collaborative, Special Education Administrator Development Academy) provided participants with the professional learning needed to finish out this challenging school year. At one point in the conference, one of the five broadcasters of the event exclaimed that at that very moment, 179 out of 181 people were viewing the conference livestreamed! He said that it never happens that almost every single registered person is actually watching live!

Spring Forum participants were impressed with the safety guideline set up (and followed) at The Classic Center, the timely topics, well-informed speakers, and the quality of the livestream broadcast.

Five audio-visual engineers were used to broadcast the Spring Legal Forum to the live-streamed audience.
