

Just Read, Florida!

2014 Summer Literacy Adventure

Florida's First Lady Ann Scott and the Florida Department of Education's Just Read, Florida! Office proudly announce the 2014 Summer Literacy Adventure. As summer is fast approaching, we encourage schools, students and parents to prepare for the summer break by participating in this fun challenge to have students read during the break.

Literacy experts and educators agree that children of all ages need to be read to, read by themselves and talk about the books they have read during the summer. Your student's summer reading and book discussions will help maintain reading skills, improve reading fluency and provide the opportunity to learn new vocabulary and concepts. Most importantly, when parents and children enjoy summer reading together, children develop a love of books and reading that lasts a lifetime. According to research by Richard Allington (2007), by the time a struggling reader reaches middle school, summer reading loss has accumulated to a two-year lag in reading achievement. Researchers also conclude that two-thirds of the ninth-grade reading achievement gap can be explained by this summer learning loss. Let's work together to help students in Florida stay on track and not lose valuable ground in reading.

The 2014 Summer Literacy Adventure is geared to help children stay on target, motivated and excited about reading and literacy. During summer vacation, it is important for students to spend time reading and writing on a regular basis whether the student is a beginning or proficient reader.

The Summer Literacy Adventure invites you to have your students read as many books as possible. Each student can fill out his or her pledge on the Just Read, Florida! website at www.justreadfamilies.org, and by the end of the summer, the department will tally up which schools have the most participants.

In addition to this challenge, here are some suggestions and resources for you as the district literacy leader to share with administrators, reading coaches and teachers in every school in your community to encourage reading. Thank you for your continued efforts to provide Florida's students the resources and support they need to be successful in school and in life.

2014 Summer Literacy Adventure Suggestions and Resources:

- Provide tips to parents for summer reading. (See Parent Tips for Summer attachment)
 - Provide Just Read, Florida! parent brochures for parents of elementary school and secondary students. (See parent brochures attached.)
 - Use up to any remaining Parent-Teacher Organizational funds at the school or district levels, by providing summer book-packs. Book-packs include age-appropriate books at the student's reading level with follow-up activities for students to complete during the summer break.
 - Materials that support the themes of STEM (science, technology, engineering and mathematics).
 - Materials that foster parental involvement, reinforce learning at home and support Florida Standards.
 - Resources that include, when possible, online engagement.
 - Consider having Open Library Nights at your schools where children and parents can come and check out books and read at the school library. Media specialists may want to track grade-level participation and recognize these children/grades at a schoolwide 2014 Summer Literacy Adventure Celebration.
 - Consider allowing children to use classroom library books or media center books as tools to meet the Summer Literacy Adventure challenge. Books can be checked out during summer library hours.
 - Consider sending phone messages via your district's automated messaging system to all students, encouraging them to keep reading and be part of the Summer Literacy Adventure Celebration when they return to school. This message can come from the superintendent, principal, reading coach or classroom teacher.
