

As per the most recent communication from NMSU Provost Parker on March 16th, NMSU “faculty will move face-to-face classes to an online format for the remainder of the spring semester”, for all students. For a direct link to this communication please visit <https://nmsu.edu/coronavirus/3-16-20-Maintaining-Academic-Progress-Spring-2020%20.html>. NMSU/DACC updates and communication can be found on our website at <https://nmsu.edu/coronavirus/>.

At 2:30 today, our President and members of NMSU campus will be hosting a virtual town hall with more information. Hopefully answering many unanswered questions about online format, and computer lab availability, etc. Here is a link to the town hall webinar information: <https://nmsu.edu/coronavirus/3-17-20-NMSU-president-to-host-virtual-town-hall.html>.

Students have continually been notified through their NMSU Email Accounts throughout this process, but with things changing so quickly, information can become outdated in a short amount of time. I should have more information to share after today’s town hall webinar and will be sure to be in touch again soon. I plan to send a dual credit message to all of my main campus students too, and will encourage them to call me if they have any questions or concerns. I will either be here on campus, or working from home over the next few weeks.

I hope this information is helpful! Thank you so much and Be Well!

Rebecca
