

Responsibility & Organization Essay Topics

1. Based on your knowledge about responsibility and organization, explain the idea of a worker who is able to be exemplary in the model workplace? How would you develop the idea worksite that exemplifies the mission and vision for the company? Will the new model increase productivity and profitability? Why or why not?
2. In your own words, what is responsibility and organization and how does it relate to the real working world? In your discussion, refer to examples that can be used from your own experience on your job or where you volunteer.
3. Why is being responsible and organized an incentive while in high school? What are the perimeters or drawing target for not being held accountable for your actions and deeds while in the workplace? How does this relate to being in the workforce and being able to develop your momentum for being an exemplary employee?
4. Is social responsibility and organization important? Why or why not? Explain and justify your answer by using examples from real situations.
5. How do schools teach responsibility and organization to students? How does this relate to your experience on the job or volunteering? Do you feel that you are well equipped for the real world of work based on your experience?
6. Do you feel like you are being trained responsibility and organization at home? If so, how does this reflect your performance at school? If not, how does it impact your ability to perform well at school and/or in the work force?
7. How does social responsibility relate to being responsible and organized in the workplace?
8. In a paragraph, explain your outlook on responsibility and organization in the workplace/volunteering. Is it volatile to have these traits on the job or in school? Why or why not?

