Why your help is needed?

As the Syrian Crisis continues unabated Governments and international aid organizations have cited it as the “most challenging refugee crisis in a generation”. Human rights abuses in the areas of conflict within Syria are many including the targeting of civilians and children. As a result of the ongoing violence and instability many people have fled to neighbouring countries.

At BCMY we work with many refugee children as well as some of the most vulnerable Lebanese children. No matter what the child’s background or faith we try to show them the love of God though all that we do and help them realise how special they are and how much God loves them. But we can only do this with your help.

Our aims at BCMY

- To show God’s love through our children’s programmes of Bible study and worship times, crafts and games.
- To provide a safe and positive environment in which the children can express themselves and have fun.
- To reassure the children that they are precious and loved.
- To help the children realize that their circumstances don’t define them and to counter the negative thoughts and emotions they may have as a result of the experiences they have been through.
- To show the children how Jesus can be their friend and Saviour.
- To support the local church in the development and delivery of their children’s ministries.
