Three Ways to Complete Your High School Education

General Educational Development

(GED EXAM) HIGH SCHOOL EQUIVALENCY DIPLOMA

1 (GED EXAM) HIGH SCHOOL EQUIVALENCY DIPLOMA

The General Educational Development Examination (GED exam), often referred to as the high school equivalency exam, is administered each month by the Connecticut State Department of Education.

In order to apply for the GED examination, an individual should be 17 years of age or older and no longer enrolled in school. At the time of registration, individuals 17 and 18 years old must submit documentation from the last high school attended that they have either been officially withdrawn from school for at least six months (17 year-olds must have a withdrawal form with a parent or guardian signature) or the class with which they entered ninth grade (or would have entered if never enrolled in high school) has already graduated. In order to enroll in an adult education GED preparation program provided by a local school district, an individual must be at least 17 years old, officially withdrawn from school and must have a withdrawal form with a parent or guardian signature). There is no required waiting period to enroll in GED preparation courses.

The exam consists of five sub-tests:

Language Arts-Writing Skills consists of two parts.

1. Part One measures the ability to edit 50 questions in the objective part of the test using the editing skills of correction, revision and construction shift.

2. Part Two requires writing an essay on an assigned topic and measures the ability to compose a well-written response to a topic that is familiar to examinees.

3. Social Studies measures the ability to use higher order thinking skills in understanding fundamental social studies concepts.

4. Science measures higher order thinking skills included in fundamental and scientific understandings of life science, space science, and physical science.

5. Language Arts-Reading measures the examinee's ability to comprehend, apply and analyze literary selections.

6. Mathematics which will measure skills in number sense and operations data, statistics and probability geometry and measurement and algebra functions and patterns.

Successful completion of a GED practice test is recommended prior to registration. Registration must be in person at the Hamden Adult Education Office.

For more information please call (203) 407-2028.

For those students who want to be well prepared for the GED, we offer free instruction in the evening at North Haven High School. For more information, please call the Adult Education office at (203) 239-1641, Ext. 2913.

2 EXTERNAL DIPLOMA PROGRAM

Experienced adults who want to earn a high school diploma may consider an alternate route. Working at their own rate, adults can demonstrate the skills and knowledge acquired through life experience. Upon completion of this program, North Haven residents will be awarded a North Haven Adult High School Diploma. Call the Hamden Adult Education office for more information at (203) 407-2028.

3 ADULT HIGH SCHOOL DIPLOMA CREDITS

North Haven residents can earn a North Haven Adult High School Diploma through the Hamden Adult Education Department.

Classes are offered in English, mathematics, social studies and science on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. Additional credits may be earned for work experience and/or independent work. This program is most appropriate for individuals who were recently in high school but who lack a few credits. Candidates who enjoy an academic setting and group interaction, or who plan to further their education and want to improve their academic skills, are also encouraged to enroll in this program. Classes are held at Hamden High School and will begin:

Term 1 - Tuesday August 27 at 6:30 PM

Call (203) 407-2028 for an individual interview to determine if this is your best route to obtain a high school diploma.

Registration will be held at Hamden High School Adult Education.

Term 1- Monday, August 19 at 6:30 PM

Tuesday, August 20 at 6:30 PM
