

Question: Will you be accepting bids with just product on them or will you only be accepting bids with product and services?

Answer: As the Narrative States: “* A vendor can bid on all or some sites, all or some services. Preference may be given to those bids that are deemed most complete.” Services here includes both physical products and services related to the physical product. You may bid on any portion of the request, but preference may be given to those bids that are deemed most complete.
