Summary

Richlands Elementary has shown much growth in community and curriculum development. Continuous research of student data through EVAAS, EOG summaries, benchmarking and other methods have provided much information to determine each student's needs. Teachers have become immersed in gathering curriculum materials to enhance their instructional presentation to meet every child's individual needs.

Parent participation has increased with daily involvement by many throughout the school. Through this, a great transition program has begun with the Richlands Primary staff, students and parents. Many opportunities to interact and share with those individuals occurred throughout the year with festivals, visitations, tours and test monitoring.

The Richlands District is a great school community and continues to thrive in its quest for academic excellence!
