High Point University generously donated a class set of t-shirts after a fifth grade teacher, Cristi Askew, reached out to High Point president, Dr. Nido Qubein. The students were so excited to receive the shirts on College Shirt Day at Ramseur Elementary and their excitement only grew after seeing their classmates in matching college shirts. Many students were heard saying things like, "I'm definitely going to college now!" and "I want to go to HPU!" over the course of the day!

Ramseur Elementary and Ms. Askew's fifth grade class greatly appreciates High Point University's generosity!
