

Randolph County School System “STAR³ Students” for January 2018

Franklinville Elementary School - Izzy Benbow - 2nd Grade

Izzy Benbow is an academic leader who strives to do her best and helps others when needed. She is kindhearted, making sure that not only is everyone included, but that they feel they are an important part of the group. It seems that Izzy is always smiling. Her smile lights up the room and others can't help but smile back. Izzy has received many Feather Cards for being Safe, showing Ownership, and being Attentive and Respectful. She “SOARS” daily as she strives to make the right choices. We believe her positive outlook, willingness to learn, and ambition will take her far in life. For these reasons and many more, Franklinville Elementary School is proud to recognize Izzy Benbow as our STAR³ Student for January.

Grays Chapel Elementary School - Aniston Bunnell - 3rd Grade

Aniston Bunnell has been chosen as the STAR³ Student because of her excellent behavior and performance in the classroom. She is a great role model for other students and leads by example. Aniston goes above and beyond to do her best, and it is noticeable in the choices she makes throughout the day. Academic excellence is just one of her many positive points. Aniston exudes good character in her behavior and the way she treats other students. Grays Chapel Elementary School is proud to select Aniston Bunnell as its STAR³ Student for January.

Level Cross Elementary School - Travis Lawson - 1st Grade

Travis Lawson is a student in Mrs. Klein's and Mrs. Thorpe's first grade class. Since beginning kindergarten, Travis has overcome many challenges and continues to excel. He is respectful to his teachers and classmates. He notices if a classmate is sad or upset and is the first to try and help them. Travis is responsible by doing his best work and always completing a task before starting another one. He keeps up with his school supplies and his daily schedule. Travis can be counted upon to follow directions the first time they are given. If he makes a mistake, he corrects himself and apologizes. Travis Lawson is a shining star at Level Cross Elementary School and is deserving of the STAR³ Student award for January.

Liberty Elementary School - Peyton Noah - 2nd Grade

Peyton Noah comes to school each day with a can-do attitude. She works hard on all of her assignments and always tries her best. Peyton is responsible and can always be counted on to make good choices. What stands out most about Peyton is her kindness and respect toward others. On many occasions Peyton has reached out to students on the playground who do not have anyone to play with. She is a friend to all and a pleasure to teach. Liberty Elementary School is extraordinarily proud to recognize Peyton Noah as our STAR³ Student for January.

Northeastern Randolph Middle School - Breanna Applewhite - 7th Grade

Breanna Applewhite is a conscientious, mature, self-motivated student who sets high standards for herself. She has a love for learning and takes pride in all her endeavors. Breanna's stellar work ethic shines through her efforts both inside and outside the classroom. In addition to being a model student, Breanna is a dedicated Husky cheerleader and a member of Beta Club and Future Business Leaders of America. She is determined, dependable, and respected by her classmates. We are proud to have Breanna as a member of our Northeastern Randolph Middle School family and are proud to select her as our STAR³ Student for January.

Providence Grove High School - Sam Booth - 11th Grade

Sam Booth truly is a model student and a model human. He is always aware of how his actions impact those around him, and as a result, Sam is always looking to do his very best in every aspect of the day. As a student, Sam is highly motivated and hardworking. His work is always high-quality, detailed, and on time. As a leader, Sam's initiative is something to learn from. When given a task, he takes complete ownership of that task and ensures that the outcome is the best it can possibly be. Sam genuinely embodies traits such as kindness, integrity, respect, responsibility, and humility. Sam Booth is a "Star Student" by all definitions of the term, and Providence Grove High School is proud to select him as our STAR³ Student for January.

Ramseur Elementary School - Lilly McDuffee - 5th Grade

Lilly McDuffee is an absolute delight to have in the classroom. Not only does she strive to learn, but she is compassionate and thoughtful of others. Often times after Lilly finishes and analyzes her work, she takes the initiative to assist other students with appropriate questioning and guidance. She is also a media helper and service club representative, and she is passionate about her leadership in these areas. Lilly embodies excellent character in everything she does. She is the definition of a model student and incredibly deserving of this award. Ramseur Elementary School is proud to have Lilly McDuffee as our STAR³ Student for January.

Randleman Elementary School - Allison Gutierrez Mendoza - 4th Grade

Allison Gutierrez Mendoza is a quiet leader who demonstrates all the characteristics of a model student. What stands out the most is her uncanny ability to help someone without that person even realizing Allison has assisted him or her. On many occasions she has been observed helping peers or adults without being asked. After the task is complete, the other person is unaware that Allison helped, and that is the way Allison wants it. She goes on throughout the day doing what leaders do - working hard and not concerned with receiving credit. Congratulations to Allison Gutierrez Mendoza, Randleman Elementary School's STAR³ Student for January.

Randleman High School - Joseph Whitaker - 9th Grade

There aren't many people who can alter the world around them by radiating positivity, but Joey Whitaker is one of them. Joey is the student who can find the good in everyone and genuinely cheers on anyone who crosses his path. He constantly gives high-fives in the hallways and encourages his classmates during the school day. Joey can also be found assisting school administrators in watching over the lunchroom and helping keep everyone in line. If someone from the administration team is away, Joey is the ultimate substitute! He has a passion for all things sports-related, especially Randleman High School athletics. His love for the Tigers is evident in his attendance at athletic events and his review of any of the games that made it onto YouTube. Joey is a one-of-a-kind student and brings much joy to his teachers, peers, and administrators. Congratulations to Joey Whitaker, Randleman High School's STAR³ Student for January.

Randleman Middle School - Marian Aguilar Ginez - 7th Grade

Marian Aguilar Ginez is the epitome of a student who always does what is right. She is a leader academically, is respected by her peers, and is willing to help anyone at any time. Marian consistently makes the right choices and is a positive influence on others. She is soft spoken, but allows for her creativity to show through her school work. Marian takes great pride in her work ethic and organization. Her work is always well written, thorough, expressive, and a model for other students. Marian always has a smile on her face and radiates positivity. She makes others smile with her kindness and generosity. Marian is a star and brightens our school every day! Congratulations to Marian Aguilar Ginez, Randleman Middle School's STAR³ Student for January.
