“STAR³ Students” for October 2017

Franklinville Elementary School - Layla Saunders - 1st Grade

Layla Saunders is a model student who is reported as following “all the rules all the time.” Layla is kind to others and often looks for other students she can help. She continues to set the example by making correct choices, even when not the popular choice. She uses her best manners and puts forth her utmost effort in everything she does. It is with great pride that Franklinville Elementary presents Layla Saunders as our STAR³ Student for October.

Grays Chapel Elementary School - Rakee Garner - 5th Grade

Rakee Garner is a great all-around student. He works well with others, both in and out of class. He participates during all subjects and has a positive attitude every day. He is motivated to do well academically and completes his assignments on time. He is also starting to show leadership qualities in the classroom and is a role model for his peers. We are so proud of Rakee Garner and congratulate him on being selected Grays Chapel Elementary School's STAR³ Student for October.

Level Cross Elementary School - Austin Crabtree - 4th Grade

Austin Crabtree is in Ms. Stout's class and is a true example of a student who is respectful, responsible, and always doing what is right. Austin is conscientious about his school work, wants to learn, and is a self-motivated learner with a positive attitude. Over his years at Level Cross, Austin has become more outgoing. He cares a great deal about his classmates, teachers, and family. He enters the building most days holding the hand of his younger sister, an act that older brothers usually avoid! Austin is a shining star at Level Cross, always smiling and brightening the day of those he encounters. Level Cross Elementary is pleased and honored to recognize Austin Crabtree as our STAR³ Student for October.

Liberty Elementary School - James Tabor - 3rd Grade

James Tabor is a star student at Liberty Elementary, because he has a great heart. You may say that about a lot of people, but James showed his heart during the tornado warning earlier this year. A student in his classroom was afraid and crying during the event, so James put his arm around her and comforted her. While he was scared, too, he showed bravery and was a true hero during this moment. James is kind, a hard worker, and always seems to know the right moment to give his teacher a hug. We love James and are proud to recognize him as Liberty Elementary School's STAR³ Student for October.

Northeastern Randolph Middle School - Bryant Ridley - 8th Grade

Bryant Ridley came to Northeastern Randolph Middle School as a 6th grader full of energy and excitement for life. Over the past few years, we have watched Bryant mature into a respectful and responsible young man, and we are pleased to have him in our school family. Bryant has a personality that is impossible not to like. His joy is contagious, and when Bryant smiles, he lights up the room. This past summer, Bryant attended Junior Sheriff's academy and was recognized for his positive demeanor. This is just one example of the progress he has made. Bryant has two younger siblings and he proudly serves as a role model for both of them. Northeastern Randolph Middle School is proud and honored to have Bryant Ridley as our STAR³ Student for October.

Providence Grove High School - Caroline Remsburg - 12th Grade

Caroline Remsburg is an outstanding, well-rounded student who always strives to do her best. She is a high achiever with an excellent work ethic, self-motivation, and pride in how she represents herself. Caroline is completely trustworthy and intrinsically motivated to do what is right and honest. She demonstrates concern for others, as she is willing to help her peers and does so with graciousness, kindness, and patience. Caroline serves as a peer tutor and is excited to help other students be successful. Her words and demeanor are positive and encouraging. She is an admirable young person who is full of love and pride for her country, family, school, teachers, and friends, and these traits are exhibited in her hard work and care for others. Our lives here at Providence Grove High School have been enriched from knowing Caroline Remsburg, our STAR³ Student for October.

Ramseur Elementary School - Abbie Callicutt - 5th Grade

Each and every day, Abbie Callicutt goes above and beyond what is expected. She completes every assignment with high integrity and her efforts inspire those around her. Her ability to solve problems and demonstrate critical thinking skills makes her an incredible asset to the classroom. Abbie is the perfect example of a model student – she remains positive, helps when needed, and explores new topics with an open and ready-to-learn mind. Ramseur Elementary School is honored to have Abbie Callicutt as our STAR³ Student for October.

Randleman Elementary School - Aubrey Stewart - 4th Grade

Aubrey Stewart is a well-mannered young student who sets an example for other students at Randleman Elementary School. She is a textbook role model who displays leadership. It is often difficult to determine what it is that sets her apart. Is it her infectious smile, her kind heart, her humor, her charisma, or her quick wit? Aubrey displays perseverance and there is a never a task or assignment that she is not willing to buckle down and work hard on to complete. At a young age, she understands that hard work and determination bring satisfaction as well as friends. Aubrey is a hard worker, leader, and role model, but she is also a good friend. Randleman Elementary School is pleased to recognize Aubrey Stewart as our STAR³ Student for October.

Randleman High School - Chesney Strider - 11th Grade

Chesney Strider has a positive nature and exceptional work ethic. Her commitment to excellence extends beyond academics to her participation in FFA. As reporter, Chesney oversees public relations, plans workshops, and organizes parade floats. Her FFA adviser says, "This young woman is dynamic, creative, and responsible. I can give her a task and depend on her to get it done and done well." Chesney's diligence was a key factor in her team winning first place in the NC Milk Quality and Products FFA Career Development Event. On October 24-28, Chesney will compete at the National FFA Convention in Indianapolis. She has put in countless practice hours over the summer and after school. Chesney is a special young woman of unlimited potential, and Randleman High School is proud to have her represent us as our STAR³ Student for October.

Randleman Middle School - Odin Latimer - 8th Grade

Odin Latimer has made positive progress since he was in 6th grade. He has worked to make positive choices and over the last two years has made significant growth in reading and math. Odin is well-liked and has made several friends with peers outside of our classroom. He has a vibrant imagination and excels in creative writing. He has many talents, a well-developed sense of humor, and many varied interests, and he loves to bring in personal items from home when they relate to topics of study. Odin is a valued member of our class and enriches our class with his great personality. It is with great pride and pleasure that Randleman Middle School selects Odin Latimer as STAR³ Student for October.
