Wheatmore High School band students Cody Chessor, Rebecca Meier, and Sydney Brinkley are pictured here after their performance at the central district all-district band clinic. These students represented Wheatmore and the Randolph County School System very well! Both Rebecca and Sydney are state-eligible, which means they placed high enough in the auditions that they will be auditioning on the state level in March. This is a huge accomplishment for these girls, as the central district is the most competitive district in the state.
