September 2017

With parent teacher conferences right around the corner (9.21.17 from 4:30 – 8:00pm and 9.22.17 from 8am – noon), I thought it pertinent to share the RFJSHS report card with you. Schools in Colorado receive a School Performance Framework (SPF) from the state each year with a rating scale based on state testing, state testing growth and postsecondary and workforce readiness (SAT, graduation rates, dropout rates, matriculation rates). There are four rating levels: Turnaround, Priority Improvement, Improvement and Performance. RFJSHS has received the Improvement rating for the past several years. This year, we hit the PERFORMANCE rating! This is a testament to the hard work from the teachers and students. Congratulations staff and students on achieving the top rating from the state!

Students will graduate, be productive citizens and be college, career or military ready.
