CATECHESIS Q & A: DEEPENING OUR KNOWLEDGE

“WHAT IS THE ANOINTING OF THE SICK?”

By Scott Hahn (Compiled by Ruben Beltran, Confirmation Coordinator/Apologist)

When Jesus commissioned the Twelve, they went out into the world and saw immediate results. In St. Mark's Gospel we learn that they “anointed with oil many who were sick and healed them” (Mk 6:13). They must have been astonished at the power flowing through them. Yet it was a mere shadow of the task that still lay ahead of them. For, as Jesus made clear elsewhere in St. Mark's Gospel, it is a greater work to forgive sins than to heal even the gravely ill. (Mk 2:9).

Jesus healed people with dire illnesses and disabilities as a sign of spiritual healing: “...that you may know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sin” (Mk 2:10). The physical signs were there for the sake of a spiritual reality. They were a concession to human weakness. In fact, after the apostles had witnessed many such marvels, Jesus assured them that they would accomplish “greater works than these” (Jn 14:12).

In the beginning of their ministry, the apostles, like Jesus, restored bodily health. But it was a sign of the deeper healing they would accomplish, through the Church, after Pentecost. We catch a glimpse of the Church's ministry of spiritual healing in the Letter of St. James: “Is any among you sick? Let him call for the elders [presbyters, or priests] of the Church, and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord; and the prayer of faith will save the sick man, and the Lord will raise him up; and if he has committed sins, he will be forgiven” (Jas 5:14-15). This is the Sacrament we know today as the Anointing of the Sick. But it's fair for us to ask today why physical illness should be an occasion for spiritual healing. There are many good reasons, not least that grave physical suffering is often accompanied by difficult spiritual trial. When we are in extremis, we are far more likely to be tempted to doubt God's goodness and power—or even His existence. Job's wife sincerely expected her husband to give in to despair and “curse God” (Job 2:9).

Sacramental oil gives us the grace we need to face such trials. Consider what the symbol of oil suggested to the early Christians. Oil healed, and oil strengthened. It was a base for many medicines. It was also a liniment used by athletes in the arena. Olive oil was a rub down that strengthened wrestlers for a contest and enabled them to slip away from the grip of their enemies. For Christians, all of these worldly values are symbolic of the spiritual value of anointing. Anointing both heals and strengthens us spiritually, and enables us to slip away from the devil's grasp and endure our contest with him—and, more than endure, to prevail, to be “more than conquerors through Him who loved us” (Rom 8:37). The anointing even brings about that great marvel that Jesus alluded to in St. Mark's Gospel: the forgiveness of sins. Thus we can face even certain death with a serene and peaceful conscience, in the reasonable hope that death will be our gateway to eternal life.

Sometimes, the sacramental anointing will bring about physical healing as well, if healing will be conducive to the salvation of the soul. That's wonderful but unusual; and actually, it's far less a marvel than the Sacrament's ordinary effects. Anointing is far more likely to give us what we really need: humble acceptance of our suffering, in union with the suffering of Christ and in atonement for sins, especially our own. Anointing helps us transform physical suffering into something more deeply remedial, something truly redemptive.

SOLEMNITY MASSES FOR THE FEAST OF THE ANNUNCIATION

This Wednesday, March 25, is the Feast of the Annunciation. Although it is not a day of obligation to attend Mass, because it is still a very special day, we will celebrate two extra Masses that day. In addition to our regular 6:00 and 8:00 a.m. Masses, we will have a Mass at 10:00 a.m.

(with the School students in attendance), and an evening Mass at 7:30 p.m.

WHAT IS THE ANNUNCIATION? The feast of the Annunciation (“announcement”) celebrates the angel Gabriel’s appearance to the Virgin Mary (Luke 1:26-38) when he told her that she had been chosen to be the Mother of Our Lord. She, of course, ultimately responded with her fiat (her consent): “Behold, I am the handmaid of the Lord. May it be done to me according to your word.”

Mary thought of herself first and foremost as God’s servant, seeking glory not for herself but rather for Him. In so doing, she became, as St. Augustine put it rather poetically, a “heavenly ladder, by which God came into the world,” descending from heaven to earth, to become flesh in her womb.

The Angelus is a prayer commemorating the Annunciation. It is traditionally prayed at 6:00 am, Noon, and 6:00 p.m.—but you can pray it at any time. When prayed with humility and love, we are emulating Mary’s faith in His goodness. We are blessed in that we can ask both God and His Blessed Mother for their assistance on our journey towards Eternal Life!

History: The celebration of this feast dates back at least to the fifth century. It is celebrated exactly nine months before Christmas—a reminder that it is when we also celebrate the Incarnation of the Lord. When Mary gave Gabriel her acceptance of God’s Will, Christ was conceived in her womb through the power of the Holy Spirit. The narrative of the Annunciation testifies powerfully to the truth of the Catholic tradition that Mary was indeed a virgin when Christ was conceived, but also that she intended to remain one perpetually. Mary’s response to Gabriel, “How shall this be done, because I know not man?” (Luke 1:34), was universally interpreted by the Fathers of the Church as a statement of the Mary’s resolution to remain a virgin forever.
