CATECHISM Q AND A: DEEPENING OUR KNOWLEDGE

“What are the Corporal and Spiritual Works of Mercy?”

Since Pope Francis has declared the period from December 8, 2015, to November 20, 2016, to be a Year of Mercy, it is well to remember the teaching of the Church about the Corporal and Spiritual Works of Mercy. Mercy is said to be a virtue influencing one's will to have compassion for and, if possible, to alleviate another's misfortune. Practicing the works of mercy is extending God's compassion to those around us. Its motive is to alleviate the misery which one discerns in another, particularly in so far as this condition is deemed to be, in some sense at least, involuntary.

The Divine command is set forth in the most stringent terms by Christ, and the failure to comply with it is visited with the supreme penalty (Matthew 25:41): "Then He shall say to them, 'Depart from me, you cursed, into the everlasting fire which was prepared for the devil and his angels. For I was hungry, and you gave me not to eat; I was thirsty, and you gave me not to drink. I was a stranger, and you took me not in; naked, and you covered me not; sick and in prison, and you did not visit me,'" etc. The Corporal Works of Mercy give us a model for how we should treat others in their physical needs, as if they were Christ Himself. They are charitable actions by which we help our neighbors in their needs. They respond to the basic needs of humanity as we journey together through this life. The seven Corporal Works of Mercy are: To feed the hungry; to give drink to the thirsty; to clothe the naked; to shelter the homeless; to visit the sick; to visit the imprisoned; and to bury the dead.

Since the Spiritual Works of Mercy also deal with distresses whose relief is even more imperative, the injunction must extend to them also. Including the plain references of Christ to such works as fraternal correction (Matthew 18:15) and the forgiveness of injuries (Matthew 6:14), the Spiritual Works of Mercy are also found in the teachings of Jesus. The Spiritual Works of Mercy have long been a part of the Christian tradition, appearing in the works of theologians and spiritual writers throughout history. Just as Jesus attended to the spiritual well-being of those He ministered to, these Spiritual Works of Mercy are acts of compassion which guide us to help our neighbor in their emotional and spiritual needs. The seven Spiritual Works of Mercy are: To instruct the ignorant; to counsel the doubtful; to admonish sinners; to comfort the sorrowful; to bear wrongs patiently; to forgive offenses willingly; and to pray for the living and the dead.

Though generally enjoined upon all the faithful, often, in particular cases, a given individual will not be obligated or even competent to perform three of the seven spiritual works of mercy, namely: instructing the ignorant, counseling the doubtful, and admonishing sinners. These works may generally require a superior level of authority or knowledge or an extraordinary amount of tact. The other four works (comforting the sorrowful, bearing wrongs patiently, forgiving offenses willingly, and praying for the living and the dead) are considered to be an obligation of all the faithful to practice unconditionally.

In sum, our Final Judgment will be based largely on love of God but manifested in our love for neighbor. Indeed, using the words of Blessed Mother Teresa of Calcutta, "We must find Jesus present in the distressing disguise of the poor."

CHRIST HAS NO BODY NOW,
BUT YOURS.
NO HANDS, NO FEET
ON EARTH, BUT YOURS.
YOURS ARE THE EYES
THROUGH WHICH CHRIST
LOOKS COMPASSION
INTO THE WORLD.
YOURS ARE THE FEET
WITH WHICH CHRIST
WALKS TO DO GOOD.
YOURS ARE THE HANDS
WITH WHICH CHRIST
BLESSSES THE WORLD.

Memorial Mass for Ron Rivera, Former School Employee

In
*Loving Memory
 Of Ron Rivera*

Ronald M. Rivera, a long-time employee of St. Therese School, was born on June 25, 1950, in Los Angeles, and died on May 17, 2016. He was a dedicated employee of St. Therese School for twenty-nine years—until his retirement in 2013. During those years, he worked as the athletic director and coach, as well as the custodian and as a teacher’s assistant. He also volunteered to help in many other ways, including doing yard duty, cooking for the annual Grandparents’ Day lunch, and emceeding the school’s Halloween parade. Even after his retirement, he was a frequent visitor and volunteer.

Ron, who gained his inspiration from the students and staff of the school, was affectionately known as “Big Ron.” He was known for his sense of humor, his stentorian voice, his handiness with tools, and for being a “Jack-of-all-Trades.” Ron was one of those people who knew everybody’s name and everybody knew his. Not only that, but every year he would actually give nicknames to each of the kindergarten students—some of the names lasting all through the students’ school years.

A ROSARY AND MEMORIAL MASS will be held here at St. Therese Church this Tuesday evening, June 7th. The Rosary will be at 7:00 p.m., and the Mass at 7:30 p.m. A RECEPTION will follow in the Hall. All those who remember Ron and want to honor and pray for him are invited to attend. Please come ready to share your own “Big Ron” story at the reception.

Saint Therese Carmelite School

Scripture Meditations

HOPE AND LIFE: Today's readings tell the story of two widows. The first reading relates the plight of the widow with whom the prophet Elijah stayed; the Gospel tells about the widow of Nain. In each story, the widow's only son had died. For people who lived in those cultures, the son was the only support of a widow, and the carrying on of the family name by the son was equal to immortality. A widow whose only son has died could lose all hope.

Elijah and Jesus are the restorers of hope; they bring the sons back to life. Saint Paul was metaphorically raised from the dead when he experienced the conversion and call from God that he describes in today's second reading. What are Christians called to do today? We may not be able to raise the dead, but perhaps we can rekindle hope for a single parent. We may not be able to convert a persecutor like Paul, but if we speak the Gospel openly and gently with our lives, we might touch a life with the Good News.

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION: Unless Professor Einstein's theory of relativity can be translated into any useful kind of time-travel, most of our clues about life in the early Church will have to come from ancient letters and ancient prayer texts. A prayer text from a dusty library may yield, for example, an understanding of what "presbyters" actually did. We have such a prayer from the early third century from the hand of Hippolytus of Rome. While our modern prayers derive a great deal from his, some of the practices of the ancient Church have fallen away. In his day, bishops were chosen by the people, and the other bishops merely consented. Presbyters, by contrast, seem to have been chosen by the bishops. This makes sense, since it allowed the bishops to hand-pick their most trusted advisers.

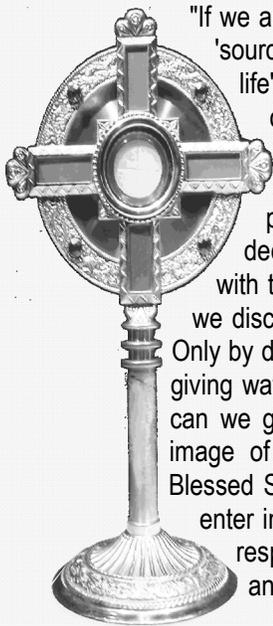

It seems that bishops were at first reluctant to share their presiding at the Eucharist with presbyters. In fact, by the time of the fourth-century, when the Church's was experiencing a growth spurt in Rome, the bishop sent deacons out with fragments of the host from his Eucharist to drop into the chalices of the presbyters at the outlying Eucharistic celebrations. We still have a vestige of this "fermentum" in the Mass today, a reminder of the early bishops' desire to give a powerful sign of the unity of all celebrations of the Eucharist with their ministry, and a clue to their reluctance to delegate a sacramental ministry to the presbyters.

(Vatican Radio) Using the example of the Blessed Virgin for his reflections on May 31st (the Feast of the Visitation), Pope Francis said, "Christians with a grimace or disgruntled expression on their faces are a very ugly thing. They think they are (Christians) but they are not fully so. The attitude of Christians should be one of service--of helping others." The Pope pointed out how the Gospel describes Mary as setting off immediately and without hesitation to visit her cousin, despite being pregnant and despite the risk of meeting robbers along the route. He continued, "The courageous women who are present in the Church are like Mary. These women who bring up their families, who are responsible for rearing their children, who have to face so many hardships, so much pain, women who look after the sick..." Referring once again to Mary's meeting with her cousin, he noted that the two kinswomen greeted each other with joy and their encounter was very festive. In conclusion, he said, "Being of service and reaching out to others requires going out of ourselves. Through Mary's service towards others, through that encounter, our Lord's promise is renewed and makes it happen now, just as it did then. And it is really our Lord—just as we heard during the first Reading: 'The Lord, your God, is in your midst,' the Lord is about helping other people, the Lord is about meeting other people."

Be one with Jesus in Eucharistic Adoration

"If we are to experience the Eucharist as the 'source and summit of all Christian life' (Lumen Gentium 11), then we must celebrate it with faith, receive it with reverence, and allow it to transform our minds and hearts through the prayer of adoration. Only by deepening our Eucharist Communion with the Lord through personal prayer can we discover what He asks of us in daily life. Only by drinking deeply from the source of life-giving water "welling up within us" (John 4:14) can we grow in faith, hope, and charity. The image of the Church in worship before the Blessed Sacrament reminds us of the need to enter into a dialogue with our Redeemer, to respond to His love and to love one another."

--St. John Paul the Great
