IN-SERVICE EDUCATION

In-service education¹ is a program of planned activities designed to increase the competencies needed by all personnel in the performance of their responsibilities. Competencies are defined as the knowledge, skills, and attitudes which enable personnel to perform their tasks with maximum effectiveness to increase student achievement.

Administrative and Supervisory Employees

Administrative and supervisory employees shall show evidence of continual professional growth by attendance at in-service programs and institutes, studying professional literature, meeting with other professionals for discussion, and otherwise keeping abreast of research in methodology, curriculum, and student growth and development.

Each principal and administrator shall be required to attend the principal-administrator academy for instruction at least once every five (5) years.²

Professional Employees

A system-wide in-service committee, composed of membership from a cross-section of other personnel, shall assess system-wide needs, establish priorities, develop objectives, design activities, and evaluate the in-service program.¹

In-service credit shall not be given while performing duties which are required as part of regular teaching assignments.

Support Personnel

The immediate supervisor shall be responsible for providing in-service trainings. Absences to attend meetings relating to the employee's job description may be granted by the director of schools without loss of pay to the employee.

PROFESSIONAL LEARNING PROGRAM

Professional learning programs and activities shall reflect the Standards for Professional Learning³ (Learning Forward, 2011) as listed below and shall reflect the needs identified in school improvement plans.

The Board may pay expenses of selected personnel who participate in the training sessions conducted by the State Department of Education.

1 The director of schools shall involve central office personnel and other employees as needed in develop-
2 ing the system-wide professional learning program and shall recommend it to the Board for approval.
