Weird Pet Tricks

THE STORY

The Langford Elementary School held a fundraising "Weird Pet Tricks Day." Five children and their pets were the five finalists in the contest. The children's names were William, Wilma, Webster, Wyona and Walter. Their pets were a skunk, a monkey, a dog, a ferret and a parrot. The names of the pets were Beauty, Beastie, Stinky, Furball and Pickles. Their tricks were guitar playing, roller skating, tap dancing, a card trick and eating a bug. Based on the clues, match the children with their pets, the names of their pets and the tricks their pets performed.

THE CLUES

1. Pickles the monkey did an amazing card trick.
2. Furball the dog did an incredible tap dance.
3. Beauty the skunk played "Pop Goes the Weasel" on an electric guitar.
4. Wyona and William both thought their pets were better than the monkey, the dog and the skunk.
5. William's pet could not roller skate, and it was not called Beastie either.
6. The ferret could roller skate.
7. Webster's pet was not either a skunk or a dog.
8. Walter's pet could not play the guitar.

THE STORY

Five people named Walt, Winston, Wanda, Winnie and Wendy went to an auction. Their last names were Bidderton, Vendue, Price, Sale and Gavel. They all bought a different item at the auction. The items purchased were a lamp, a chest, a sofa, a keychain and a table. Each person spent a different amount. They spent $5.00, $10.00, $20.00, $30.00 and $50.00. Based on the clues, match first names with last names, the items they purchased and the amounts they spent.

THE CLUES

1. Wanda spent twice as much as Price, but Winnie spent twice as much as Wanda.
2. The lamp was the least expensive item, and Bidderton spent the most money.
3. The sofa cost half as much as the table.
4. Gavel bought a chest but spent less than Walt.
5. Winston did not spend $30.00, and Vendue spent more than Sale.
6. Wendy, of course, spent more than Winnie but less than Walt.

THE STORY

Five women named Paula, Pat, Pam, Penny and Peggy bumped into each other and spilled the contents of their purses. They all lost one item from their purses. They lost a lipstick, a compact, a comb, a file and a key ring. Their last names were Jones, Smith, Johnson, Doe and Dixon. They all had different professions; they worked as a doctor, lawyer, teacher, judge and pilot. Based on the clues, match the women with the items they lost, their last names and their jobs.

THE CLUES

1. The pilot, whose last name was Johnson, lost her file.
2. The teacher lost a comb.
3. Dixon lost her lipstick.
4. Paula, Penny and Peggy were not doctors and did not lose their combs.
5. Pam did not lose a file or key ring.
6. Paula, who was not Smith or Doe, lost her compact.
7. Penny was not a lawyer or a judge.
8. Peggy was not a teacher, and her last name started with the letter "D."
9. Jones was not a judge, and Doe was not a doctor.
10. Peggy and Pat did not lose lipstick.

THE STORY

Charlie liked Chinese food so much that he ate it five days a week. However, Charlie only liked five Chinese dishes; he liked egg rolls, chow mein, sour soup, fried rice and Peking duck. Charlie always ate two courses at every meal. To keep his meals interesting, he mixed the dishes up so that he never ate the same combination twice in one week. Charlie did not have this problem with his drink order as he drank something different with each meal. He liked to drink tea, coffee, milk, cola and water. Based on the clues, try to figure out Charlie's daily menu.

THE CLUES

1. Charlie never ate the same combination of dishes twice in one week.
2. The only dish Charlie ate two days in a row was Peking duck on Tuesday and Wednesday.
3. Charlie did not order sour soup on Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday.
4. Charlie's 1st course on Tuesday was chow mein, and he had chow mein again for a 2nd course the day after his 1st course was duck.
5. Charlie ate no egg rolls on Monday or Thursday, and he drank coffee after he drank milk, and tea the day after he drank coffee.
6. Charlie drank water after he drank tea, and he drank cola on Friday.
