White Pass School District is a small, rural district located in the foothills of Mt. Rainier and Mt. St. Helens in eastern Lewis County, WA. The district serves approximately 400 P-12 students from the three unincorporated towns of Glenoma, Randle, and Packwood. The students are served on one central campus consisting of an elementary and a junior/senior high school, located in Randle. This beautiful setting, a geographical area of about 1000 square miles, has enjoyed tremendous support from the community with the continual passage of the maintenance and operations levies. In addition, the community supported a bond which enabled a new junior/senior high school to be built, and the elementary school to be remodeled.

The successful candidate can enjoy an outstanding quality of life with opportunities to hike, ski & snowboard, mountain bike, hunt, fish, pick berries, ride horses, and camp. Local, farm fresh produce is available in our communities. The cities of Yakima, Seattle, and Portland are all within a two hour drive.

The quality of the staff and community support makes this an outstanding personal and professional opportunity.

Thank you for your interest in White Pass Schools.
